CALIFORNIA-STANFORD CONTEST ON

GERMAN FLEET IS RUSHED TO THE COAST OF MEXICO

KAISER IS TAKING HAND

Cruiser Herta Ordered to Remain in Southern Waters

Final and Absolute Answer From Huerta Is Awaited

BULLETIN.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 8.—Provisional President Huerta, it was learned in authoritative circles today, has obtained sufficient British capital to operate the Mexican government at least until the end of the present month.

The funds are said to have been obtained through the efforts of Lord Cowdray, head of the Pearson Syndicate.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The cruiser Herta received orders from the Navy Department today to remain in Central American waters so that she might be available on the Mexican Coast in case of necessity. Other vessels are on the way to Mexican waters, in which Germany will have a large fleet.

CARRANZA HOPEFUL.

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, Nov. 8. General Venustiano Carranza appeared unusually optimistic today regarding the success of the constitutionalist revolution which he heads. The trend of dispatches from his agents at Washington and New York indicated that official Washington wanted to know the exact extent and strength of the insurrection against the Huerta central government. This, Carranza and his followers here interpreted as strong intimation that the Wilson administration seriously was considering recognition of the Mexican insurgents. Such action, the rebel chief considers, would insure the success of the revolution and he asserted he could put 100,000 men into the field.

RIFLES SMUGGLED.

But in the meantime the insurgents are not inactive in awaiting the expected lifting of the embargo on arms. Carranza was cheered greatly today

DEPARTURE OF BUSH IS DELAYED

President of W. P. Will Leave for Salt Lake Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Owing to the fact that Alonzo Potter, of the firm of Solomon and Company of New York, will not arrive here until tonight, the departure of President Benjamin F. Bush, of the Western Pacific Railroad has been delayed until Monday. Accompanied by Potter and the other bankers and officials, who have been his companions on a tour of inspection, Bush will leave, according to his present plan, on Monday and make a careful inspection of his road all the way to Salt Lake. An excursion will be made from Winnemucca, Nevada to Boise City, Idaho, over the route of the proposed railway, which is to be constructed by the Gould line, and would mean a valuable feeder for the Western Pacific.

Bush said this morning that he would [illegible]ection of the properties of the company in Oakland prior to his leaving, and had no intention of doing more than giving his associates an opportunity of viewing the beauties of the road and testing its [illegible].

Thaw Requisition Honored Case Now in Federal Court

GOVERNOR DECIDES FOR EXTRADITION

Fugitive Now in Custody Pending Writ of Habeas Corpus

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 8.—Governor Felker today honored the requisition of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw. The case is now transferred automatically to the federal courts, where a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Thaw is pending.

The governor based his decision on the indictment returned against Thaw in New York county, which charged him with conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Matteawan, New York, to which he was committed after his second trial for the killing of Stanford White. Thaw made his sensational flight on August 17 and a few days later was arrested near Coaticook, Canada.

WILL AMEND PETITION.

Thaw's attorneys announced they would immediately file an amendment to their petition for a writ of habeas corpus, application for which was made soon after Thaw was arrested in this state after his deportation from Canada. The original petition was based on the allegation that Thaw was indicted for conspiracy by the Dutchess county grand jury, and it was suspended pending the governor's decision on the question of extradition.

Because the extradition has not been granted on the strength of the [illegible] be necessary to amend the petition accordingly.

RAINY SUNDAY IS WEATHER FORECAST

Storm May Not Reach Bay Cities if Wind Subsides

SAN FRANCISCO, 8.—After making good his promise to provide a clear sky for today's intercollegiate contest between Stanford and California on the Cardinal field, the weather man will likely again make good on his assertion that a storm is coming tomorrow. It is somewhat doubtful as to whether the rain will reach the bay cities, depending entirely on the velocity of a south wind.

The storm is at present west of Sitka, Alaska, and is moving southward. Washington will probably have a drenching tonight and it is thought that the storm will move down to Oregon and Northern California by tomorrow afternoon. It is possible, however, that it will be shoved eastward, without touching more than the extreme northern part of this state. The official forecast, however, says cloudy tonight and Sunday, with probable rain for the northern half of the state, and the interior valleys. Southern California is exempted for the present.

Prince Frederick's Auto Kills Child

POTSDAM, Germany, Nov. 8.—A 4-year-old girl knocked down by an automobile in which Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia was driving near here today, died after the Prince had conveyed her to a hospital. The child darted across the street in front of the motor car too late for the driver to avoid her.

MYSTERIOUS GIRL IS HELD

May Be Daughter of Rich Eastern Merchant; Memory Lost

Hysteria Declared Cause of Derangement; Patient in Hospital

Young, pretty, neatly dressed in navy blue, with brown hair and eyes, a woman who refuses to speak or in any way disclose her identity, is being held in a detention ward at the Emergency hospital, where she was taken from the Southern Pacific pier at 1 o'clock this morning, after Special Officer Godkins had observed her wandering about aimlessly for nearly four hours.

Her name is believed to be Pearl Kaufmann, member of a wealthy Eastern family, who became suddenly deranged mentally while traveling. Marks upon her lingerie bear the name of Kaufmann, while gold hatpins she wore have her initials in monogram. Her suit, which is of expensive material of navy blue, bears a firm mark reading "Kaufmann, The Big Store, Pittsburg."

When taken in charge by Officer Godkin the woman carried neither purse nor handbag and it is believed that she may have lain them aside and walked away without them.

Officials at the pier are endeavoring to learn whether the woman believed to be Miss Kaufmann had arrived at the pier on some overland train or whether she was there awaiting some one.

Before being taken to the hospital she was taken to the Central police station, where it was found that there had been no complaint of any one missing who answered her description. At the hospital she appeared to be laboring under some mental strain and when questioned she merely lowered her eyes and refused to make answer.

The patient is about 5 feet in height and 25 years of age. Her features are rather pretty and small.

For many hours she slept soundly, waking only once up to noon today and on that occasion she merely opened her eyes, looked about her and then apparently fell back to sleep. She will be held until further investigation can be made into her identity.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin examined the patient and found that she was suffering from hysteria, but what caused her condition he did not determine, although he intimated that she would probably improve sufficiently to converse later on.

Bridges Burned; Coal Mines Are Tied Up

WALSENBURG, Colo., Nov. 8.—Four or five bridges on the branch of the Denver and Rio Grande, beween Chucharas Junction and the main line, were discovered on fire early this morning. This branch is the one that brings the output of the Rouse and Lefler mines, better known as the Midway, both properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, to the main line. There is a strikers' colony in this neighborhood. The Rouse mine is one of the largest properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in this section and has been operating under guards.

With these bridges burned the output cannot be marketed.

Dr. W. F. Snow Need Not Obey Subpena, Order

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—A subpena from the British vice-consul in San Francisco to compel Dr. W. F. Snow, of the state board of health, to produce the birth certificate of the Slingsby baby before the vice-consul does not have to be obeyed, according to an opinion rendered today by Attorney-General Webb in San Francisco, an opinion which was asked by Snow. Webb rules that the subpena of an official of a foreign government is not binding upon a state officer.

Ketchel's Trainer Attempts Suicide

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 8.—Dr. George Colar, well known in the sporting world as the trainer of Stanley Ketchel in all of his important fights, made four unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide in the county jail last night by putting his clothing together and forming a noose by which he suspended himself from the bars of his cell. After his fourth attempt the officers divested him of every shred of clothing and his bedding. Colar is suffering from delirium tremens.

PRINCETON LOSES TO HARVARD

"Tigers" Cheered on the Field; Win Toss for First Goal

Harvard Kicks Off to Open Game; Day Is Rainy

FINALS.

Harvard, 3; Princeton, 0.

UNIVERSITY FIELD, PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 8.—Harvard and Princeton met this afternoon in their annual football battle. Rain fell heavily at intervals during the forenoon, and at 1 o'clock there was another heavy shower. A little later the crowd came pouring into the big enclosure from the corners of the field.

Harvard was the favorite as the teams lined up.

The Harvard squad, 40 men, came on the field at 1:15 o'clock for a short practice.

The first real cheer of the afternoon was brought forward when the Princeton team ran on the field. The Tigers looked fit for the contest.

Harvard took the kickoff. There were many empty seats in the stands. Harvard kicked off over the goal line and Princeton ran the ball back 33 yards, Glyck carrying the ball. Law [illegible] line and Harvard ran it back eight yards before the crimson runner was downed.

The lineup:

Princeton.	Position.	Harvard.
E. Trenkman	center	Stucky
W. Swart	right guard	Pennock
Ballin	right tackle	Gilman
Shea	right end	Storer
Glyck	quarer back	Logan
Law	left half	Hardwick
H. Baker	right half	Bradlee
Streit	full back	Brickley

OUTPLAY HARVARD.

The Tigers fairly outplayed Harvard throughout the first period and the spectators went wild with delight or groaned as the sturdy Princeton linemen stopped Crimson plays or opened holes for the Orange and Black backs. Twice Princeton was close enough to try for field goals, but both attempts failed and neither side scored before the quarter ended.

The game opened with an exchange of

Unless I am greatly mistaken California will be returned victorious from this afternoon's contest. All of the boys have trained faithfully and earnestly, and if we lose it will be because Stanford has a better team. All of the boys are optimistic and we will fight to the last ditch.

(By WILLIAM P. DARSIE, acting captain of Stanford.)

We have a strong team and I think that we will win. The absence of Captain Thoburn is a severe blow to us, but the fellows are confident and anxious to win. Stanford has always born a fighting reputation and I think that today will prove that that spirit still predominates. Win or lose, we will do our best.

JOHN CHAS. ADAMS IS DEAD

Capitalist Succumbs Following Operation for Appendicitis

Failing to rally from an operation, John Charles Adams, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edson Adams, and brother of Edson F. Adams, died early this morning at Merritt hospital.

He was stricken with appendicitis Thursday morning and Friday morning he was removed to the hospital, where he was operated upon by Dr. Austin Clarke that day.

Up to the last moment the members of the immediate family held out hope for his recovery. His physician was in constant attendance. Prior to his illness he was enjoying splendid health, and up to Wednesday afternoon he was attending his affairs. Adams had extensive property interests in Oakland.

He was born in this city January 19, 1862. He was educated in the private schools here and in preparatory academies. He graduated from Yale University and then entered Harvard, where he studied law for three years. He never engaged in practice. While at college he made a brilliant record and was active in the various societies.

LIVED HERE 42 YEARS.

For the past 42 years he has lived in this city upon the estate of his father, the late Edson Adams, at Bay place and Oakland avenue. Upon the death of his father John Charles Adams, his brother, Edson F. Adams, and his sister, Mrs. Thomas Prather, inherited a fortune. Since the demise of the elder Edson Adams the deceased has attended almost exclusively to the affairs of the estate. He was interested with his brother, Edson F. Adams, in the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, where he was formerly a director. The late John Charles Adams was an officer in the California Development company and the Oakland Dock and Warehouse company. He served with his brother as a director in those concerns. Both brothers have been interested in the development of Oakland's inner waterfront, which was under litigation for many years.

John Charles Adams was married in this city on December 16, 1897, to Miss Ernestine Shannon Haskell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Haskell, pioneer residents of Oakland. The late capitalist is a descendant of one of the oldest and most distinguished families of Alameda county. The family name will be perpetuated by the five children of John

CHEERS FOR 'CHAMP' LADS

Big Crowds Wait From Morning for Opening of Gates

Palo Alto Crowded; All Games Watched in the East

PALO ALTO, Nov. 8.—Anxiety felt for favorable weather for the "big game," with California and Stanford as principals, was relieved this morning when a bright sun put in its appearance. Automobiles, gaily bedecked in cardinal and blue and gold, began arriving here early this morning, and by noon thousands of machines had arrived and scores of others were arriving continually. Enthusiasm ran riot, the evenly matched teams allowing rooters of both universities to hold hope of victory.

The crowds started to throng outside the parked inclosure where the "big game" stage is set early in the morning and when the gates opened shortly afternoon probably 10,000 persons were in line. Practically the entire bleacher section was filled an hour after the opening of the gates, while the reserved section was also rapidly being covered with humanity. The arrival of the rooting sections of the two universities, which are seated directly opposite each other, found the seating accommodations almost packed to capacity, with the crowd continuing to pour into the park.

It was an inspiring sight as the two well-drilled rooting sections—flaunting on one side the cardinal of Stanford and on the other the blue and gold of California—"opened up." From the throats of a thousand odd California rooters went up the famous "Oski wow, whisky wee wee, oley muckey-ei, oley Berkeley-ei, Califor-

Plumber Is Killed By Electric Train

Failing to hear the gong of an approaching electric train on the Southern Pacific tracks at B. street in West Oakland, Walter A. Williams, a plumber, whose home is in San Diego, was run down and killed last night. Death was instantaneous.

The body was removed to the morgue. Williams was about 25 years of age. Deputy Coroner Bert Sargent has notified the mother of the deceased in San Diego. Motorman Buzzo, in charge of the train, surrendered himself today on a technical charge of manslaughter, and was released on his own recognizance pending the finding of the coroner's jury.

Mrs. Drown in Cell Of Irvington Woman

Mrs. Millie Drown, who was held to answer to the Superior Court by Police Judge Samuels yesterday, for the murder of her husband, Archer C. Drown two weeks ago, has been confined in the county jail awaiting trial. She is in custody of Mrs. Hattie White, matron, and has been placed in the same quarters recently occupied by Mrs. Mary De Valle, who killed her husband at Irvington, and who is now serving a 5-year sentence in San Quentin.

ANOTHER SKYSCRAPER, 17TH AND BROADWAY

Early construction of a ten-story class A bank and office building at Seventeenth street, Broadway and Telegraph avenue, is assured by the consummation of a transfer of the site today. The structure is to cost $125,000. Plans will be drawn at once and it is expected that work on this, the third skyscraper for the postoffice district, will begin early in the new year.

The structure is to be erected by [illegible] McGary, who have purchased as a site for it the north end of the gore block, upon the point of which Carlston & Snyder are erecting a fourteen-story office building. It will be opposite the new ten-story [illegible] building on Broadway. The ground was bought from Pavert & Hobson, builders. Transfer was being negotiated for some time, but the deeds were not placed on record until today. The land occupies a frontage of 26 feet on Broadway, 80 feet on Seventeenth street and 27 feet on Telegraph avenue, and was sold for $75,000. The property is improved with a two-story building.

The sale was handled through the agency of the [illegible] Real Estate Company.

It was announced by Woodward today that a bank would occupy the ground floor of the new building, but he withheld the name of the institution.

AGED MAN HURT BY THUGS

Robbed, Beaten and Left Insensible on the Sidewalk

Samuel Harvey, Veteran, Dangerously Injured by Footpads

Samuel Harvey, an aged [illegible] man, was attacked as he emerged from the Weber house, 409 Twelfth street, by two men, beaten into insensibility and robbed. The old veteran was found lying in the street by Henry Maloon, a pioneer of Oakland, and member of the old California guard, and taken to the police station, where he reported the hold-up.

[illegible] ing $44 from Harvey. It is thought that they had been lying in wait for him in the hallway of the lodging house, and leaped out upon him as he was leaving the place.

"I was stepping out into the street when two men came up behind me," Harvey told the police. "They struck me from behind, knocking me to the pavement, and then jumped on me. I do not know what happened after that, as I lost consciousness."

Maloon found the aged man lying on the sidewalk. The robbers had evidently been frightened away, as they had not taken Harvey's watch, which had been removed from his pocket and was hanging by a heavy gold chain. The men had apparently attempted to take the watch, but had been interrupted by passersby.

Harvey, who is 70 years of age, was given medical care. The police are investigating the robbery, but have little hope of finding the thugs.

ROB LAUNDRY.

Wearing white masks over their faces, two robbers armed with revolvers entered the laundry conducted by Sam Wah, 1652 Stanford avenue, shortly before 4 o'clock this morning, terrorized Wah and his [illegible] and robbed him of [illegible] in gold coin, $10 in Mexican silver coin and a gold watch valued at $16. The men acted with the utmost boldness and had little difficulty with the panic-stricken Chinese.

The thieves entered the wash house by the rear door. They found Wah in the lower part of the building, and immediately covered him with their revolvers. At the point of their leveled weapons they drove the laundryman upstairs to the bedrooms above the laundry, where they forced him to give up a bag of money which he had concealed in his bed.

They found two Chinese, Ah Sing and Lim Ap, in the bunks, and stole a small sum of money from one and a watch from the other. The robbers left the three Chinese cowering in the upper part of the building and made their escape.

Captain Lynch of the northern station was notified and rushed to the scene. A search was made, but the two masked men were not found.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Nov. 8.—Reports of an attack by strikers by the military guards at Forbes early today were received by Adjutant-General John Chase. Preliminary steps for the military occupancy of the coal mining districts west and south of Trinidad were taken today.

HARVARD GETS BIG EASTERN PRIZE

punts, the first four of which resulted in a net gain for Harvard of six yards. Both sets of backs found the wet ball hard to handle. Finally Hardwick kicked high and short for Harvard and with the ball on the home team's 42-yard line Streit plunged through for eight and two yards in succession. Two more attacks on center and Harvard yielded another first down, then Baker's try for a drop kick was partially blocked.

The Harvard kick was returned and then Princeton's line forced another punt. Then Streit tore through wide openings in the Harvard line again, carrying the ball to the visitor's 33-yard mark where Baker again failed on a field goal. When the quarter ended Princeton had the ball on Harvard's 40-yard line.

Princeton went at the visitors' line with renewed determination in the second period. Glyck and then Streit smashed through for successive gains of ten, two and five yards. Then Baker suddenly switched his attack to a wing shift. The play gained only two yards and Harvard took the ball on down her 19-yard line, immediately kicking to midfield.

LOSES ON OFF SIDE.

Princeton punted and then lost five yards for off-side, the first penalty of the game. Harvard returned the punt and then stopped a fake formation. Law's kick was blocked, Harvard recovering on the Tigers' 20-yard line. Two plays gave slight gain and Brickley kicked an easy field goal. Heavy rain made the field slippery. The players were covered with mud and once play was stopped while the Princeton men wiped wet sand out of their eyes.

Punt failed punt after Princeton's kick off, but the kickers' duel was broken by the spectacular play of the first half when Mahan caught Law's punt and protected by good interference sped 50 yards to the Princeton's 25-yard line just as the sun broke through the clouds.

The rest of the period was more or less of a scramble in the mud.

Score, end of first half: Harvard 3, Princeton 0.

Baker's shot to Hammond put the ball in Crimson territory again but off-side play spoiled the gain and Law punted to within seven yards of Harvard's goal as the period ended.

CHANGE UNIFORMS.

Both teams changed to dry uniforms. Baker kicked off and a punting duel between Law and Hardwick ensued. Baker fumbled one of the kicks but Glyck recovered the ball, Law punting out of bounds to Harvard's 47-yard line. Harvard tried a forward pass which grounded and another exchange of punts put the ball on Harvard's 48-yard line. Holding cost the Crimson 15 yards and Law ran the resulting kick back 15 yards to Harvard's 45-yard line. A delayed pass helped greatly, making a first down. Harvard threw back the next attacks and with 15 yards to go Baker made a forward pass which was successfully caught but failed to gain the distance. Three punts followed Baker, making a fair catch on the Crimson 46-yard mark. He tried for a field goal but lacked distance. Brickley caught the ball and ran it back 35 yards before Lamberton downed him.

FOURTH PERIOD.

Undiscouraged, the Tigers continued their desperate fight. After an exchange of kicks, Glyck intercepted a forward pass on his own 47-yard line.

Hardwick punted from behind his own goal and the ball went out of bounds at Harvard's 24-yard mark. Streit bucked for a yard then lost it on the next play. Baker dropped back, preliminary to a try for goal. The whole Harvard line broke through and Storer blocked the kick.

HARVARD RECOVERS.

Harvard recovered the ball in the scramble and the Crimson stand had a chance to yell. The next instant the Princeton rooters were on their feet, for Harvard's punt shot straight across the field and Princeton got it on the 28-yard mark. Baker again tried a drop kick but failed. On the next play Bradlee broke through the line and ran 55 yards, deep into Princeton territory. It was Brickley's turn to try for a field goal, but he had no better success with the heavy ball than Baker. A fair catch on Harvard's 45-yard mark gave him another opportunity but he could send the oval only 35 yards. A ten-yard penalty spoiled Harvard's chance and the punting duel was continued until the game ended, with the ball on Princeton's 36-yard line.

Final score: Harvard 3, Princeton 0.

to the attorneys representing the fugitive and the state of New York at the capitol. He will remain here in the custody of United States Marshal Nute and Sheriff Drew pending the federal proceedings.

In granting the extradition, Governor Felker said in part:

"By the petition of Goveror Glynn and the accompanying papers, it appears that the grand jury of the county of New York has duly returned into open court an indictment against Mr. Thaw. That is sufficient to warrant the arrest, arraignment and trial of the respondent, if he may be found within the state wherein the indictment is pending. It is furthermore sufficient to establish that Mr. Thaw, if found in any state or county while such indictment is pending, a fugitive from justice.

CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITATIONS.

"The provisions of the federal constitution and the acts of Congress enacted to give force and effect thereto, as construed by the court of last resort on such matters, limit me to the consideration of the question, first, whether the person demanded has been substantially charged with a crime, and, second, whether he is a fugitive from justice. Such was the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the recent case wherein as sister state demanded of New Hampshire the interstate rendition of a person within her border. (Muncy vs Clough, 196 U. S. 372, decided in 1903).

In that case it was decided by a unanimous court that the proceedings in matters of this kind before the governor are summary in their nature. NO WORD FROM WHITE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—No announcements were made either at the White House or state department today as to the progress of the negotiations being conducted by Charge O'Shaughnessy and John Lind in Mexico City to bring about the retirement [illegible]

Though there have been intimations, official and unofficial, that Huerta would reject the American demands, the next step is dependent on the receipt of an absolute and final answer. In the meantime diplomatic pressure from many quarters is being brought to bear with hope for the success of the negotiations.

President Wilson went golfing early today. Secretary Bryan said he had nothing to say.

CABINET SESSIONS FREQUENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The cabinet discussed lengthily what course the United States should take if Provisional President Huerta refused to resign, but no decision was announced. Formal reply to the latest communication from this government to Huerta had not been received at a late hour yesterday.

The definite selection of a policy by this government is not expected until Huerta's formal reply has been presented.

Several different courses of action were discussed by the cabinet, but it was said that no tangible conclusions were reached. The members of the cabinet left the meeting, however, impressed with the determination of President Wilson that Huerta be eliminated as the first step toward peace in the southern republic.

The suggestion that the embargo on arms be lifted so that the Constitutionalists might obtain munitions of war was considered, but it was said there was no indication of a change in the neutral attitude of the Washington government.

WILL NOT TALK.

Press dispatches yesterday announcing unofficially Huerta's determination to refuse the American demands made no impression on government officials. They say they received no official communication to that effect and declined to make any comment until such communication was received.

A hope that Huerta would realize the certainty of future complications and eliminate himself from the situation was expressed by some officials, but there was no information available to indicate upon what such optimism might be based.

Dispatches from Berlin, stating that Germany would consider a movement to bring the powers in support of the American policy only if such a step were desired by the Washington government, led to the belief in many quarters that some movement might yet be developed in the situation to convince Huerta of the force of the American viewpoint.

Secretary Bryan declined to discuss this or any other phase of the situation.

NOT RESTRICTED.

John Lind's unexpected return to Mexico City from Vera Cruz is understood to have been without direct orders from Washington, but in line with the general instructions under which he has been enjoying the greatest freedom. This latest development in the Mexican situation was surrounded by a great deal of reticence here. It was pointed out that he may be acting on a belief that important developments may be expected. One official view is that Charge O'Shaughnessy either has received some intimation that Huerta is about to answer the representations made early in the week, or that O'Shaughnessy is desirous of advising with Lind on additional steps to be taken under the instructions.

The Berlin dispatch referring to a plan to recall Minister Covarrubias, representative of Mexico at St. Petersburg, that he might be appointed minister of foreign affairs and succeed to the provisional presidency in succession to Huerta, created more than a little interest among diplomatists and other observers of the situation.

Covarrubias recently resigned, but was asked to continue at his post until a successor was appointed. He was a relative of Juan Sanchez Azcona, provisional secretary to the late President Madero, who is now connected with the Carranza movement, and is said by Constitutional agents here to be one of the few men who would be acceptable to them while regular elections were being held.

TROOPS GUARD WIRE.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 8.—Federal troops were placed in charge of the telegraph offices in Juarez today and all news from the south was closely guarded.

Information of conditions in Chihuahua, which rebels claim to have taken, is being withheld. The American consular office is without news from the interior today. Federal officials say official news has been leaking through the telegraph offices and they propose to stop the leak. It is denied by them that Chihuahua has surrendered to General Pancho Villa.

JOHN CHARLES ADAMS IS DEAD

Was Capitalist and Member of Pioneer Family of Oakland.

Charles Adams, who were all born in this city.

In all the forward movements for the upbuilding of the municipality John Charles Adams was among the most enthusiastic boosters. He watched the phenomenal growth of Oakland and was proud of its attainments. It was the Adams estate that improved the southern waterfront property between the line of Alice street and that of Fallon, if extended. This property is now owned by the Santa Fe railroad company, which not long ago bought it for approximately $1,000,000 for freight yards.

In the prime of his life he displayed remarkable executive ability and became [illegible] terprises. In all his undertakings he was very successful.

DEVOTED TO FAMILY.

The late financier was devoted to his family and was loyal to his friends. Without ostentation he gave generously to all charitable organizations.

He was a member of the Bohemian and University clubs of San Francisco and the Athenian club of this city.

In the business as well as the social world he was held in high esteem. His life was marked by simplicity.

Besides a widow, Mrs. Ernestine Adams, he is survived by a brother, Edson F. Adams, and five children—Dudley Adams, Ernestine Haskell Adams, Schatz Adams, John Charles Adams Jr. and Edser Adams Jr.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon from the family residence in Bay place.

Mr. Scholarly—"Look at all the inventions that are mentioned in these scientific magazines, and to think that no one has invented something to make washing easier! My wife's all fagged out because she washed this morning."

Anty Drudge—"Mr. Scholarly, there are some inventions that are not recorded in scientific magazines, but which are more useful than those which are. Get your wife some Fels-Naptha Soap to use when she washes, and she'll tell you that it's the finest thing ever invented to help women with their work."

The Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water makes your clothes fresher, cleaner and sweeter than if you hard-rubbed and boiled them till Doomsday. It is much easier than any other way, because there is no need to keep up a hot fire and no lifting of heavy pails of water to fill the washboiler. Nothing but soaking in cool or lukewarm water with Fels-Naptha Soap, a light rub with the hands or on a board, rinsing and hanging out.

Vinee Had No Idea What Anarchy Was, So He Declared.

"Are you an anarchist?"

"I am."

"Do you know what an anarchist is?"

"I do not."

This, according to F. D. Hurlburt, comptroller of the Hotel Oakland, is what got Emile Vinee, a cook in the hostelry, away to a poor start before the Superior Court when he made the attempt to obtain papers qualifying him, as an American citizen.

Vinee, accompanied by Hurlburt, appeared before the court for the necessary questions put to those who would acknowledge themselves as subjects of Woodrow Wilson. T$he "first rattle out of the box" he declared himself an anarchist and in the second breath admitted that he did not know what an anarchist is. The judge advised Vinee to wait until another 12 months rolled around before he again sought citizenship papers and in the meantime to do a little studying on things in general.

ICE CREAM SODA NOT GERMAN; BUT IT'S NICE

Why should an arrival from the land of the Kaiser like ice cream soda? They don't have it in Germany. Therefore, it seems that a love of ice cream soda can hardly be in the class of a liking for artichokes—an acquired taste.

When Dr. Werner Hegemann, the noted city planning expert, gets off the steamer from the Fatherland, the first thing he asks for on American soil is ice cream soda. The noted expert is extremely fond of the American drink, he declares.

"They never have it in Germany, and you couldn't get it there," he declares. "There is one thing America may boast supremacy in."

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Announcement of the engagement of Vincent Astor to Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington of Hopeland House, Staatsburg, N. Y., is expected to be made today according to a report published here this morning. The report quotes Astor as stating that Mrs. Huntington would announce the engagement some time today.

Ferncliffe, Astor's country estate at Rhinebeck, and the Huntington estate are adjoining properties.

When a reporter called at Hopeland House last night, Astor was there. "This time," he said, "I will confess. The report is true. Mrs. Huntington will announce the engagement tomorrow." Astor will celebrate his twenty-second birthday anniversary one week from today. Miss Huntington is 20.

"PRINTERS' DEVILS" IN THE PHILIPPINES ARE NUMEROUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The fascination of printers' ink has taken a fast hold on the native Filipinos, according to the last annual report of John N. Leach, as director of printing in the Philippines, which has just reached here. As a result native printers' devils are so numerous that, since the installation of the system of training native printers was begun in 1902, the force in the bureau of printing is now composed of 94 per cent of Filipino workmen.

Under this system, the report states, apprentices are graded in six classes, above which come junior craftsmen and craftsmen. In the year ending June 30 last twenty juniors advanced to the rank of craftsmen, and there was a similar advance all along the line. The total of 165 apprentices were distributed over all the divisions of the plant. The Filipino employes also include 113 craftsmen.

OIL MAN CLAIMS RICHMOND BRIDE

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—A wedding of unusual local interest was held this morning when Chester Armstrong, head timekeeper for the Union Oil Company at Oleum, claimed Miss [illegible] McReynolds, chief operator in the Richmond exchange of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, as his bride. Miss McReynolds and Armstrong first became acquainted through conversation which they held on business matters between the oil company and the telephone company. This acquaintanceship later ripened into a romance and the announcement of their engagement occurred about two weeks ago. Miss McReynolds was formerly a popular society girl of Santa Rosa, where she was a graduate of the Santa Rosa high school. The wedding ceremony this morning took place at the home of the bride, 461 Fifth street, Rev. E. W. Calfee officiating. It was attended by only intimate friends and relatives of the couple. After a short honeymoon in Los Angeles, the company will make their home at Oleum.

Hospital Man Says Man That He Befriended May Be Guilty.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—Gratitude in the case of M. H. Fox, for aid rendered when down and out, proved short-lived Monday when, it is charged, he took a check from the office of the [illegible] Hospital made payable to A. L. Lewis, in the sum of $37.50, forged the endorsement of the latter and cashed it at the grocery store of J. M. Steifvater, leaving for parts unknown. Steifvater has sworn to a complaint for his arrest on a charge of forgery. Fox some weeks ago appeared at the hospital without funds and asked for work. This was given him by Dr. C. L. Abbott until he could find permanent employment. Monday he secured a position with the Standard Oil Company and told Abbott he would go to work there at once. On the same day, just before he left the hospital, a check in favor of Lewis, the regular janitor, had been made out and signed by Dr. U. S. Abbott, who left it on the desk of his private office. When the bookkeeper went to get it it was missing. A second check was given Lewis. The discovery of the fact that some one had cashed the check was made yesterday when the canceled check for the hospital was received from the bank.

ACTION TAKEN ON THE NEW AUDITORIUM PLANT

Progress and Prosperity Committee Wait a Commission Appointed by the City

EDITOR TRIBUNE: From this morning's papers I have learned that the Progress and Prosperity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has passed resolutions asking for Commissioner Harry S. Anderson's resignation.

Permit me to say that I, and not Commissioner Anderson, am entirely responsible for the cost of the Auditorium exceeding the appropriation. Commissioner Anderson continuously requested me to keep this building within the appropriation, and I have strained every effort to do so, but my work has been governed by the conditions of the land, by increased cost of materials, by the factor of safety to the people who were to occupy this building and by the requirements made upon me by various organizations, particularly the Progress and Prosperity Committee, for a large building in [illegible] other arrangements of this building which would make it adaptable for many uses.

I desire further to say that this attack was made by the Progress and Prosperity Committee with full knowledge of the fact that I alone am responsible for the plans and specifications and for the cost of the building.

I am writing this communication to you in hopes that you will give publicity to same, that the people of the city may realize that I voluntarily assume responsibility for this condition and do not desire to have the responsibility wrongly placed.

J. J. DONOVAN.

Commissioner Harry S. Anderson was seen by a TRIBUNE reporter this morning and said:

"The Auditorium will be built to please the people of this city. It will be a building that will be a credit to the city. There is no reason why I should resign. I have done my duty in all respects by the city and the people. All I can say is that when the revised plans of the Auditorium are completed and presented to the council they will meet all the requirements set forth in the bond issue for an Auditorium."

COMMITTEE MEETING.

Demanding the resignation of Commissioner of Public Works Harry S. An- [illegible] architectural commission of three to take over the duties of the city architect's office, the Progress and Prosperity committee last night, at their meeting in the chamber of commerce, voiced their official protest in the matter of the delay of the auditorium building and the recent discovery that the building would cost more to complete than the $500,000 appropriated.

The resolution as passed by the meeting, formed the report of the Auditorium committee, headed by John B. Jordan, which at the committee banquet last week rendered a partial report which caused caustic speeches. Last night's meeting was quiet, the resolution being passed with few comments.

"At the recent banquet," declared Jordan, "everything was said that could be said. I have little to say now, as the resolution I am going to present explains itself, and we all know the situation that brings it forth. The office of the city architect has never been properly looked after or there would not now be this trouble over the auditorium. There should be a new architect there."

The resolution, as filed by Jordan, forming his report, is as follows:

"Whereas, the Progress and Prosperity committee was instrumental in bringing before the people of Oakland the necessity for a municipal auditorium, and made a vigorous campaign for the same, and whereas at the time certain pledges to a cost of erection of said auditorium were made and our city commissioner of public works and city architect have repeatedly appeared before this committee and have promised the fulfillment of their pledge as so made, and whereas, the summary of the expert employed by the tax association to investigate the auditorium proves either wilful misrepresentation or incompetency on the part of said city officials, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Progress and Prosperity committee request the resignation of the commissioner of public works, and also recommend the appointment of a commission of three—two of them architects—to take over and conduct the work of the present city architect, and that the Progress and Prosperity committee urge all possible haste in the completion of the auditorium."

"There is little that I can say, but I second this," declared John Phillips, one of the members of the committee. "The matter has been gone over at length! Last week we all heard the full circumstances, and there is little use in wasting time here. I will second the motion to pass this resolution."

"I will do the same," said Dr. G. B. N. Clow: "I can confirm the findings of the committee."

"Yes," said C. H. Gorman, "Mr. Anderson ought to resign. I favor the adoption of this report here and now." The vote was taken at once and the passage of the resolution was carried unanimously.

MORE PUBLIC PARKS.

Last night's session was devoted to several matters, the auditorium matter being disposed of quietly and quickly. The proposed park purchases urged before the city administration were dealt with in a partial report rendered by Leslie Briggs. This report was not final. Ziggs, in offering it, stated, and he asked another week for investigation. He declared that the project appeared in an extremely favorable light, and that the report would in all probability when rendered favor the plan.

"Yes," said Dr. G. B. N. Clow, "I feel that this is a good thing. Good parks, good streets and good roads are what we need in California, and a move of this kind will probably be of the greatest benefit to the city." The matter will be taken up next week.

A map showing proposed improvements of the western water front was presented with comment by E. Vander Nailen, and hung up for exhibit. No action was taken on the matter. Several routine matters were passed on.

The committee passing on the auditorium matter was composed of Jorden, the chairman; T. B. Bridges, John W. Phillips, Leslie Briggs and Charles Gorman. A copy of their resolution was ordered mailed to Anderson.

WESTENBERG ASKS FOR FEMALE JURY

Missionary Worker Wants the Second Trial of Libel Charge Before Women.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Believing that women could better understand his point of view than members of the sterner sex, J. C. Westenberg, missionary worker and agitator, appealed to Superior Judge Lawlor for a female jury for the second trial of the libel charge against him, when his case was called today. The court, however, frowned on such an inovation and although Judge Dunne, whose courtroom is just across the hall, once presided over a trial where a mixed jury of half men and half women rendered the verdict, decided that he had no authority to permit such a procedure.

The petition was made by Attorney Robert Burns, representing Westenberg, who is accused by Dr. Julius Rosenstirn, former head of the municipal clinic, with writing a scandalous and untrue story about him in his publication, "The Public Eye." Judge Lawlor turned to the code of civil procedure and read the provision making it incumbent upon courts to draw juries composed of men only. This applies also to grand juries and coroner's juries, according to Judge Lawlor's interpretation.

He denied Westenberg's request absolutely, and the case will be heard in the near future. At the first trial the jury disagreed.

PIGEON CLUB TO HOLD BIG SHOW

Announcement is made by C. G. Hinds, secretary of the Alameda County Poultry Association, of the tenth annual exhibition of that body, together with the eighth annual exhibition of the California Pigeon Club, to be held in Piedmont Pavilion, commencing November 25 and closing November 30.

Entries for the poultry show will close November 12 and for the pigeon exhibition on November 15. Entries are reported to be more numerous this year than last, and it is expected that the show this year will prove very successful. Special prizes, in addition to the regular premiums offered by the association, have been provided by individuals, among whom are H. R. Noack, H. J. Knowles and E. B. Smith. The latter is past president of the Santa Clara Valley Poultry Association and he is offering as a special prize a gold medal, to be suitably engraved and presented to the Santa Clara valley exhibitor who shall score the largest number of points in any one class.

6 Killed, 5 Injured On Panama Railroad

PANAMA, Nov. 8.—Six persons were killed and five injured as the result of a collision Thursday night between a passenger train and a repair train on a branch line of the Panama railroad, eight miles from here. J. H. Wilkins, engineer of the work train, was the only American killed, the others being West Indian members of the train crew. No passengers were injured.

It is stated that the accident was caused by the repair train running on the passenger train's time.

DEEDS RECEIVED FOR MUNICIPAL TUNNEL

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—The deeds in the purchase by the city of Richmond of rights of way for the municipal tunnel to the outer harbor were received by the City Attorney yesterday, and the $25,000 agreed upon for the property purchased paid over. This leaves but one additional right of way to secure—that of the Santa Fe Railway Company, for which the company demands $30,000. A friendly suit in condemnation filed by the municipality has been set for trial for November 17. Indications point to the letting of the contract for this half-million-dollar project by the first of the year.

TOKIO, Nov. 8.—The Japanese government holds that the case against [illegible] Ellis, business manager of the Japan Advertiser, whose extradition to the United States has been refused, was not one of perjury according to the Japanese law, which defines perjury as false testimony during an examination in judicial procedure.

CHARGE IS DISMISSED ON ATTORNEY'S MOTION

MARTINEZ, Nov. 8.—On motion of District Attorney A. B. McKenzie, in the superior court today, the charge of murder preferred some months ago against M. Davis for complicity in the shooting of R. N. Horn, a San Francisco chauffeur at Giant Park, near Richmond, on September 2, was dismissed. With the conviction of James Haynie on a charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Horn, Davis was freed from all blame, as there was no question which man had fired the fatal shot, resulting in Horn's death. Davis was released at once, following the action of the court. Haynie will be sentenced by Superior Judge R. H. Latimer on Monday at 1 o'clock. Both Haynie and Davis are Oakland men.

AUTOS BLAZE WAY ON ALASKA ROADS

Dogs of Frozen North to Be in Same Boat as "Old Dobbin."

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

"The automobile having demonstrated its ability to subplant the horse is now proving its worth over the dogs of the frozen north," says Max L. Rosenfeld, the head of the Auto Sales Company.

"Way up at Fairbanks in Alaska the motor car has firmly established itself. The use of the automobile in Fairbanks may be described as many sided. Among other things, it is used for business, for pleasure, for emergency and publicity. In business it carries merchants from Fairbanks to the creek settlements on occasional trips; it carries miners into town with their gold; it carries letters and packages to and from the creeks, and shows its usefulness in freighting supplies from one district to another.

"In pleasure, the uses are manifold. Despite occasional sub-zero cold in the winter time, the cars can be used over the snow-covered trails as well as over the dry dirt roads of midsummer. For hunting, fishing and picnicking, the car is now an invaluable adjunct. 'For joyrides' it is as useful as in many an outside community.

"The automobile in Fairbanks is always in readiness for emergency call from the creeks. In drawing attention to the metropolitan side of life on the last frontier, the automobile serves a more novel purpose.

"Considerable publicity has been given the Alaskan communities through the presence of an auto in pictures coming from a land which popular fancy has pictured to be covered the year round with snow and ice and which is believed to be devoid of flowers and other vegetation.

"There is considerable roadway available for automobiles in the immediate vicinity of Fairbanks, estimated at about 150 miles in length aside from the overland trail. The roads are most of them graded; the little creeks are bridged and the mucky spots are corduroyed in substantial fashion.

"The trails can be used by autos at all seasons, with the exception of a short period in summer when there is an excessive rainfall."

KNOX FIRE WAGON.

"The fire departments of California are more modernized than any other state in the Union," says Samuel M. Crim, the head of the Reliance Automobile Co., agents for the Knox Fire Apparatus.

"The great wealth of the cities and towns of the state make it possible for the adoption of motor fire equipment. Practically any town that makes a claim to being on the map has now or is figuring on the purchase of the modern fire-fighting machine.

"One would be surprised to know the number of small towns in the state which are figuring on this equipment. It does not seem to be a question of cost, but what combination of vehicle will be best suited for the purpose. Most of these have not officially asked for bids, but are seeking information as to the best way to modernize the fire department.

"It is safe to say that from San Diego to the Oregon line that practically every city and town by 1915 will be wholly or partly equipped with motor fire engines.

"Our company has just sold to the city of Vallejo a model M No. 3 Knox combination chemical and hose motor wagon. It is equipped with two forty-gallon chemical tanks. It has the latest electric lighting and starting systems, together with the regular standard equipment for fighting fires."

ROADS GOOD.

The roads around the Mission San Jose to Pleasanton and Livermore should be in excelent shape at present after the recent rains, according to G. A. Morrill, manager of the Chanslor and Lyon Supply house, Oakland, who spent several days in and around Livermore during the first part of the week. He says:

"While the roadbed was in good shape during the recent storms, the rains were so heavy at that time that I was compelled to use skid chains, but now that the sun has had a few days' crack at the same roads there is no doubt but what they will be in fine shape for Sunday's travel."

Atlantic Lobster to Be Brought to Pacific Ocean

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—In a few days a refrigerated tank car will start west, carrying 2500 lobsters. They are being sent by the United States Fish Commission as a gift from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The purpose is to try to stock the Pacific coast waters, now lacking in this variety of sea food, with fine Maine lobsters.

The lobsters will be placed around the San Juan islands in Puget Sound, where the fish experts believe they will thrive.

In return for the lobsters the Pacific is sending to the East 12,000,000 eggs of the humpback salmon, which have just arrived in New England for planting there, to take the place of the native salmon, which has almost disappeared.

THIEF PUNISHES A WIFE BEATER

Gentleman Burglar Trounces Husband; Hands Over His Loot.

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 8.—A new kind of burglar was discovered here, thanks to the high temper and owl-like habits of Robert Bernard, a local cartage man, and the Rip Van Winkle sleeping qualities of Mrs. Bernard, his wife. Exhibiting more chivalry than business instinct, a masked robber, caught red-handed looting the boudoir, where slept Mrs. Bernard, crawled under the bed to escape detection upon being interrupted by Bernard's arrival home, and then crawled out again and administered a severe trouncing to the drayman whose house he was robbing, when the latter began to chastise his wife with an umbrella.

Bernard arrived home well along in the wee sma' hours and found unmistakable evidence of his house having been looted. Mrs. Bernard slept soundly while the burglar crouched beneath her bed with a pillow case loaded with silver, jewelry and trinkets.

Upon waking his wife and learning that she knew nothing of the robbery, Bernard began beating her with his fists and umbrella, he admits. While thus engaged, he was felled to the floor by the robber who, attracted by the woman's screams, had hastened to her defense.

Then, stepping over the body of the wife-beater, the robber apologized to Mrs. Bernard and departed calmly after tossing the loot which he had collected on to the bed.

This morning Mrs. Bernard swore to a warrant charging her husband with battery. He admitted beating his wife, and told Judge Magee very frankly that he still believed she deserved it.

"If this gentleman burglar had been caught," decreed the Judge, "he would have been sent to San Quentin for a number of years. I regret that I can do no more than to sentence you to six months in the county jail without the alternative of a fine. Later, perhaps, I may have an opportunity of complimenting this thief for his chivalry. Any woman would be better off in his hands than in yours.

MANY ARRESTED; CAR THEFTS ARE CHARGED

OROVILLE, Nov. 8.—The Western Pacific is making a determined effort to run down box car thieves operating along its lines. This is evidence by the number of arrests that are being made.

During the last six months there have been a great many thefts, and the railroad now has a number of special detectives employed in ferreting out the guilty persons. Thursday they arrested two men—Frank Maderos, a car repairer, and G. B. Hall, an employe—at the local roundhouse and charged them with bruglary. Maderos is held to answer to the superior court and Hall today pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the county jail. The men stole a quantity of whisky from a car while parked at the local depot.

George Neff, a former brakeman of the road, was found to be implicated in the theft of silk valued at $3000 from a silk special last December. He pleaded guilty and is serving six months. It is stated on good authority that the detectives have other men implicated, and more arrests will follow.

Among his friends throughout California Crabtree was known as "Uncle Jack." He was born in Illinois, and came to California by ox team across the plains, settling at Hangtown, El Dorado county, and engaged in mining. Later he took up farming in Sacramento and San Joaquin counties and became the owner of large tracts of agricultural land.

TROOPS HELD TO SUPPRESS RIOTS

KIEV, Russia, Nov. 8.—Troops in considerable numbers are being sent to Kiev as a precaution against anti-Semitic outbreaks as a result of the trial of Mendel Beiliss, who is charged with ritual murder.

At yesterday's session of the trial, M. Shmakoff, representative of the anti-Semites, made an appeal to anti-Jewish prejudice. He alluded to the large financial resources of the Jewish race and alleged their money had enabled the Jews to influence the newspapers in favor of Beiliss. He described Dr. Sikorski, who in an anti-Semite diatribe before the court last week declared ritual murder was not the myth of popular prejudice, but a reality of the twentieth century, as standing on the brink of the grave and therefore fearless in speaking the truth.

M. Shmakoff pictured the Jews as regarding Christians as animals to be destroyed without compunction. He said he did not desire that a severe penalty be inflicted on Beiliss, but asked the jury to convict the prisoner so as to bring joy to the millions of anxious Russian mothers.

Vladimir Maklakoff, leading counsel for Beiliss, followed M. Shmakoff with an analysis of many of the weak points of the case of the prosecution.

PETITION TO AMBASSADOR.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Protests from Americans against the prosecution of the "ritual murder" case now on trial at Kiev, Russia, will not be forwarded through the State Department. Prominent Christian clergymen who called on Secretary Bryan with a petition addressed to the Czar of Russia, urging that the charge against the Jew, Beiliss, be withdrawn, were told that the department could not transmit the document because it was understood the Russian Government did not desire to receive such communication.

The petition was sent to the Russian Ambassador. It appealed to the Czar to stop the trial of Beiliss "because of the untold evils to the cause of humanity which may follow from its further prosecution." Reciting the history of ritual murder charges, the petition said: "We are convinced that the blood accusation against the Jews, which has been made sporadically, is as unfounded as was the same accusation which, as history shows, was frequently directed against the early Christians."

The appeal was signed by Cardinal Farley, the Catholic bishop of nearly every city in the East and many leading ministers and religious editors of other denominations.

WEST OAKLAND TO SEE BIG FIESTA

Plans Being Completed for an Elaborate Celebration on 16th Street.

Plans are being completed for the big midwinter carnival which will be given next month in the neighborhood of the Sixteenth street depot under the auspices of the West Sixteenth Street Improvement association. A "stunts" committee has been appointed and it is intended to give a number of features which will illustrate the rapid growth of this section of the city. Work is to begin soon on the beautifying of Sixteenth street as far east as Peralta street, on the Sixteenth street station, and the waterfront.

At a meeting of the general committee Monday a queen contest committee will be selected and among the contestants for royal honors will be a number of the most popular girls in West Oakland. Special attention to the municipal improvements on the western waterfront will be called by a program of swimming events and aquatic sports. Invitations will be sent to the University of California, Stanford university, the Y. M. C. A., the Olympic club and other organizations to compete in these events for handsome prizes and also in the athletic contests which will be held in the ball park at Eighteenth and Wood streets.

The sum of $5,000 is now being spent by the Southern Pacific company in completing the interior decorations on the Sixteenth street station. It has also parked the contiguous territory, and the Chamber of Commerce, through Secretary A. A. Dennison, will ask the city to park the property between Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Wood and Campbell streets. The Southern Pacific company is co-operating with the improvement company in the coming celebration.

The West Sixteenth street is a new organization of the business men of this section of the city which has made rapid progress during the past year.

SERVIAN CHURCHES TO BE AMALGAMATED

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—For the purpose of placing them under the supervision of the home church, all the 100 orthodox Servian churches of the United States have been formed into a permanent organization. This was made known today at the conclusion of a week's convention of representatives and priests from the various congregations.

An appeal will be made to the Metropolitan of Servia to send an archbishop to this country or to raise one of the American priests to the archbishopric. The plan is to have a Servian school connected with each of the 100 churches which will form the contemplated archdiocese.

EPIDEMIC OF SMALLPOX REPORTED AT HANFORD

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 8.—Dr. S. C. Cross of the state hygienic laboratory at Berkeley has been ordered to Hanford to investigate a report of a smallpox epidemic in the school, received by the state board of health.

County Health Officer Scott wired to Dr. W. F. Snow, secretary of the state board, that twenty cases diagnosed as both smallpox and chickenpox had been reported to him by Hanford physicians. Dr. Snow ordered the affected children under quarantine and will await the report of Dr. Cross before further action is taken.

KENTUCKY HONORS A LIVING HERO

Statue to General J. B. Castleman, Veteran of Two Wars, Unveiled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—With the unvailing here today of an heroic equestrian statue of General John Breckenridge Castleman, a veteran of two wars and a prominent citizen of Kentucky, the residents of Louisville paid unique honor to him. Ceremonies, attended by General Castleman himself, members of his family and many of his fellow citizens, were staged beside the statue, which occupies a commanding position at the entrance to Cherokee Park. The statue, one of the few ever erected to a person during his life, is of bronze and shows General Castleman, in civilian garb, seated on his famous black mare, Caroline.

General Castleman was a major under Morgan in the civil war and headed an expedition which sought the delivery of Confederate prisoners in Illinois and Indiana, but was captured. The parole given him was revoked by President Johnson and he lived for a time abroad.

CRIPPLE SHOOTS MAN AND CAUSES LIVELY CHASE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8. — A cripple in a wheeled chair led several detectives in an automobile a lively chase last night before he was taken to the police station and booked on a charge of having assaulted his benefactor with intent to kill.

The cripple, Joseph Cameron, was pitied three years ago by Charles R. Stafford, a horseman formerly of Bowling Green, O. Stafford took Cameron to his home and paid him a small sum weekly for the trifling amount of labor he was able to perform.

Five months ago Cameron left Stafford's home and since then, according to Stafford, has been continually dunning his former employer for money which he declared was due him.

Stafford declined to pay, and Cameron tonight wheeled himself into Stafford's presence and shot him in the leg, it was said. Then he wheeled himself away and was trying to escape when overtaken in an automobile.

He already has made several small contributions.

CURRENCY DEBATE CAUSES FEELING

Members of Senate Bitter; the Banking Committee in Dissension.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—A shift in the lineup on the currency bill strengthened yesterday the position of the administration forces, but left the senate committee in a temporary deadlock. Senators Reed and O'Gorman, who have been opposing parts of the administration bill in the committee, rejoined the Democrats and the committee voted to reconsider the decision which cut down from twelve to four the number of regional banks in the proposed new system.

Senator Crawford, Republican, voted with the Democrats to reconsider, but a discussion which at times waxed warm, and which lasted all afternoon, failed to force a vote on a proposition to fix the number of banks at seven. Senator Crawford said he had voted to reconsider solely as a matter of courtesy. He made it clear he would not support a resolution to increase the number.

Talk of bitter feeling among members of the committee and reported outbursts in the sessions cropped up today. It was asserted one member of the committee on the Democratic side had threatened to leave the committee room and refuse to participate in the deliberations after Chairman Owen had made a speech urging support for administration proposals.

BITTERNESS FELT.

Senator Hitchcock made it plain that he would not swing into line with the other democrats and with a six to six tie in prospect the administration forces avoided a vote.

[illegible] today in voting to retlan the Secretary of the Treasury on the proposed federal reserve board. The reading of the bill was begun and a number of minor proposals were passed upon. The committee voted down a proposal to force a double liability similar to that of present national bank stockholders, on the stock of the proposed regional banks. The section of the present bill which would force all national banks into the system under penalty of losing their charters within a year, was changed. National banks, under the amendment, would be required to signify their intention of entering the system within sixty days. Banks which are at present reserve agents and which fail to enter the new system within ninety days would forfeit their reserve agencies.

The committee voted down a proposal by Senator Crawford to allow the regional banks to do a general commercial banking business.

CAUCUS MOVEMENT.

With the committee hard at work, but tied up on the fundamentals of the bill, the movement for a caucus of Democrat senators gained momentum today. A petition was circulated by Senators Ashrust of Arizona and Martine of New Jersey, calling for a conference on the currency question generally.

It was understood that the real subject of the causus and its scope in relation to the work of the committee would be decided after it met. The administration senators, including Senator Owen, declared they had taken no part in starting the petition for a conference. It was also stated the administration was not behind the call.

Senator Kern, the chairman of the democratic caucus, to whom the petition is directed, left Washington today. He will not return until Monday, when the petition will be presented to him.

DETECTIVE JAILS MAN WHO HAD HELD HIM UP

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — Detective William T. Jones captured yesterday the young man who drew a revolver on him the night before at Fifth and Minna streets and afterward made his escape in the darkness.

The prisoner gave the name of Jack Williams. He denied that he was a hold-up man, although a loaded revolver was found in his pocket.

The night before Jones saw Williams on the street and told him to stop. Instead of obeying the order Williams ran. Jones chased him two blocks, and in a vacant lot Williams suddenly stopped, and, drawing a revolver, pointed the weapon at Jones' abdomen and told him to step back. Taken by surprise, Jones was obliged to stand with hands up while Williams retreated and escaped. Yesterday Jones saw Williams on Howard street and placed him under arrest. Williams was booked in detinue for investigation.

Not at All Squeamish.

Chester Rowell admits that the Progressives of California should fight under their own flag and not masquerade under the name of a party they repudiate and denounce, but he says he is not squeamish if it be deemed expedient to appropriate the label and machinery of the Republican party. He makes it clear that what he means by expediency is anything that will give the Progressives an unfair advantage and render it more difficult for genuine Republicans to regain control of their party organization and the right to use their party name in designating candidates on the official ballot.

Mr. Rowell will be readily acquitted of squeamishness. When he told what he was willing to do it was unnecessary for him to add that he is not squeamish. All he proposes to do (if there is any advantage to be gained by doing it) is to violate the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal," and go to the electorate in stolen clothes and under a false name.

The law makes it a crime for a man to vote under a name not his own. Bidding for votes under an assumed name is ethically as bad as voting the name of another—worse, in fact. In the first instance, the imposter only cheats one man out of his right to vote, but in the second, a great political party is cheated of its right to use its own name, control the organization which carries its label or appeal for votes for its candidates under their proper designation.

No; Mr. Rowell is not squeamish. Anything but that. He is the type of political moralist who defends fraud in the name of honesty; who denounces cheating in others and says grace over stolen meat as unctuously as if he came by it honestly and is so morally obtuse that he cannot understand that property rights do not rest upon virtuous professions or unlawful possession.

He is a lineal descendant of the Puritans who came to New England that they might be at liberty to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences, and straightway proceeded to deny the same liberty to Baptists, Quakers and Catholics and who fined Jews for failure to attend Christian service. He has subtly enlarged the policy of his forbears, however. While remaining Protestants and Congregationalists they did not claim to be Catholics and Quakers.

The Wilson administration held its own remarkably well in the recent elections, thanks to the split in the opposition. No change has taken place in the Congressional representation, owing to the failure of the Republicans and Progressives to unite on candidates. Tammany's smashing defeat in New York is no set-back for the President, since John Purroy Mitchel, elected mayor on the fusion ticket, was Wilson's appointee to be collector of the port and was selected to head the fusion ticket, it is understood, to please the President and the friends of the administration. In regaining control of the New York Assembly the Republicans made a positive gain. Doubtless the Progressives will crow because their candidate for Governor in Massachusettes ran slightly ahead of Gardner, the Republican nominee, but they will not be inclined to say much about their candidate in New Jersey, who ran a poor third. As Democrats were elected in both states, there does not seem much for either Republicans or Progressives to crow over. Democratic successes everywhere are plainly the result of division in the Republican party, the returns emphasizing the fact that the Progressive movement is simply a bolt from the Republican party.

A probation officer in Boston says getting drunk causes men to tell the truth. The editor of the Fresno Republican must be a total abstainer.

Editors of the Santa Cruz and Watsonville papers are again throwing dornicks at Colonel Dunk McPherson's poetry. It is too "high" for their uncultivated palates. Not being literary epicures, they call the good gray poet's verse rotten. Evidently they can't tell rhyme from rainwater.

Huerta proposes to stand pat till he is knocked flat. He is like the bull on the bridge refusing passage to the locomotive. Nevertheless the President is justified in exhausting every persuasive recourse before resorting to drastic measures. He is proceeding with caution and discretion that our national honor may be vindicated and the world convinced that extreme measures were taken by compulsion of necessity.

We trust the Stockton Mail's resentment at the alleged violation of Chester Rowell's extraordinary confidence will abate somewhat when it learns that the individual at whom it points the finger of scorn is Hon. Denver S. Church, Democratic Congressman from the Fresno district. Now that the nature of the communication Editor Rowell sent to Mr. Church by mistake has been made public, we should like to hear the Mail's opinion of it. The intimation given by THE TRIBUNE'S correspondent had the effect of smoking Editor Rowell out. In printing the extraordinary letter he wrote to Editor Davis of the San Bernardino Index, an Amageddon brother in arms, but mailed to Congressman Church, Mr. Rowell says he has nothing to conceal and no apologies to make. Then why complain of his confidence being violated? We sadly fear, however, that the letter would never have seen the light of day if it had not been enclosed in the wrong envelope. Besides Mr. Church's violation of confidence is nothing to the political larceny Mr. Rowell says he is not squeamish about committing.

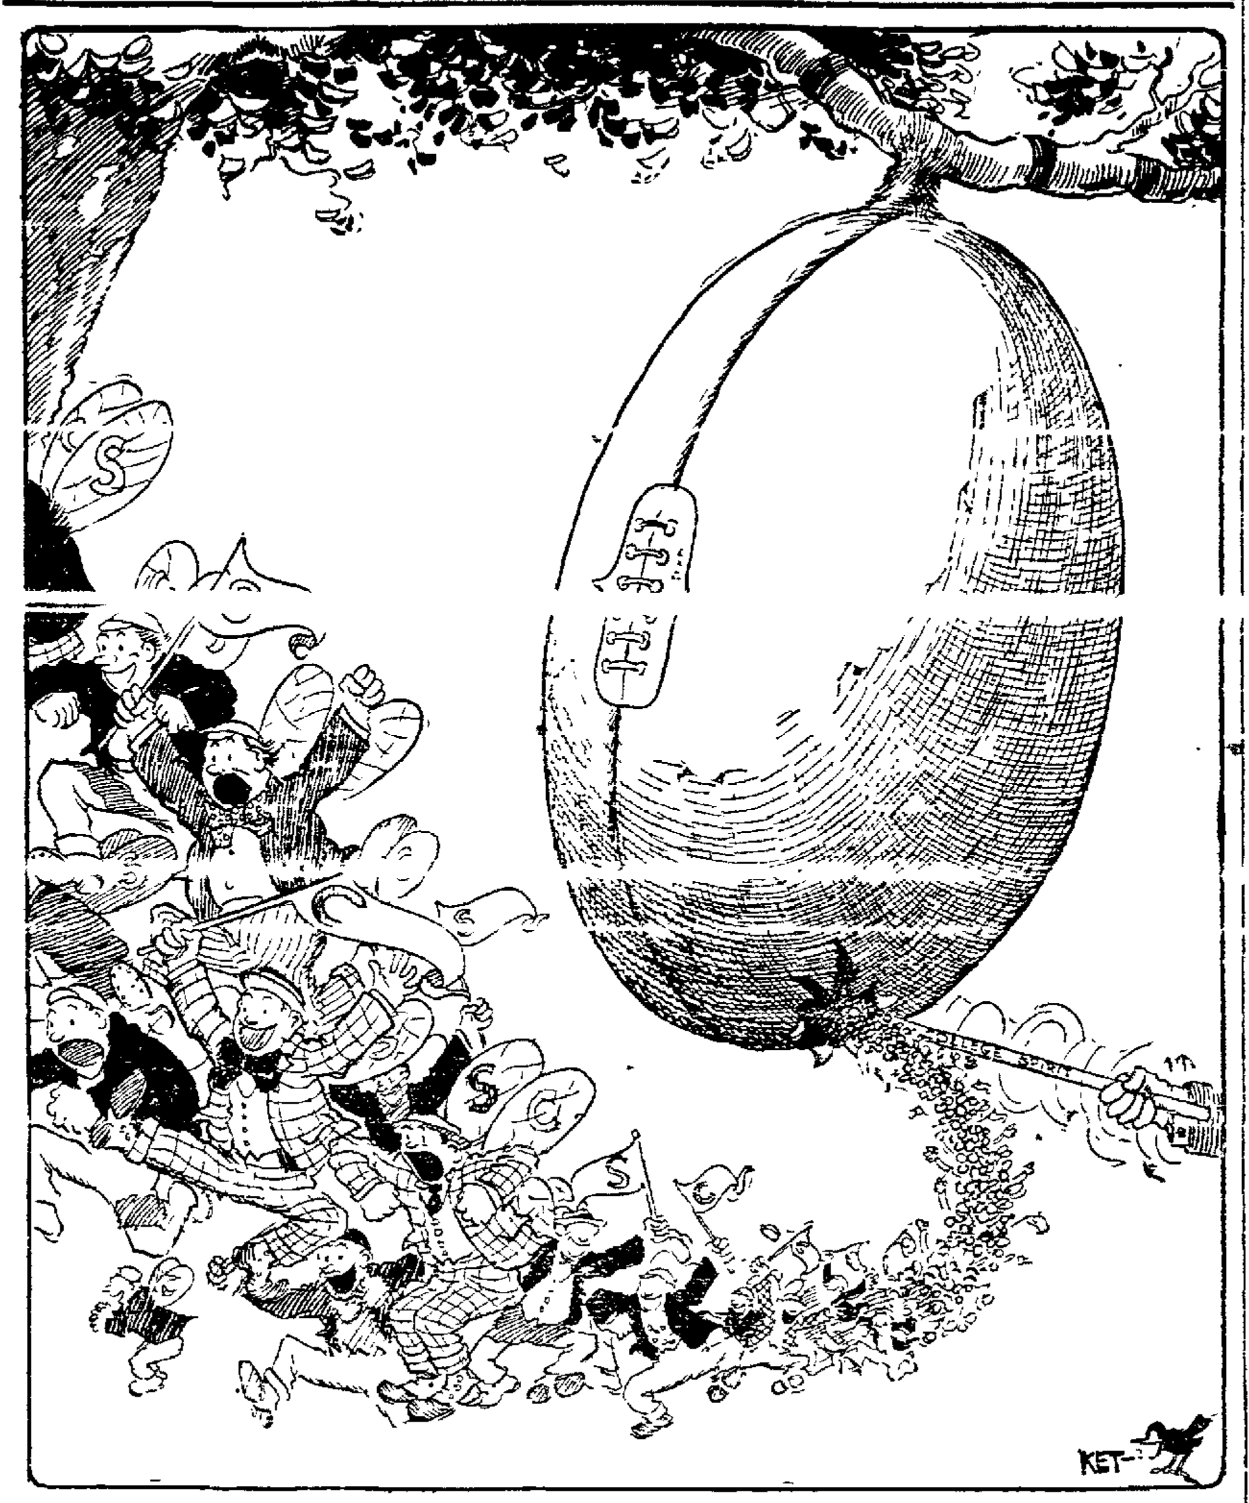
To those who fondly imagine that the wheels of progress will be reversed and the saloon permitted to come back to its former power and estate in Oakland, we commend this significant fact: Not a single district or city in California that has remained dry for two years has ever voted the saloons back. If the liquor men are wise they will let well enough alone, and not disturb the ceremonies by crowding the mourners.

Once during the last four months the Enquirer editorially endorsed the liquor reform ordinance, but that is sufficient for it to claim that the Enquirer did it all by itself with its little hatchet.

Bank Superintendent Williams' report shows that the banks of California are prosperous. Which is nowise chargeable to Williams.

[illegible] all the rejoicing over the smashing of Tammany, it would perhaps be ungracious to remind the celebrants that [illegible] times before, but the tiger has [illegible]

THEY'RE OUT AGAIN



—BY THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE CARTOONIST.

DESTRUCTION OF NEXT WAR

Military and naval surgeons who recently gathered in Denver from all over the world are agreed that war is getting more cruel, and that the next great war is apt to be so short and brutal that those who work under the Red Cross will find little to do. This prophetic glimpse of the war of the future was first given by Surgeon General W. H. Corman of the British army and navy, who made a hurried trip of 5200 miles from Devonshire to Denver, to attend the convention of surgeons, accomplishing the journey in nine days and arriving just as the proceedings opened.

"Modern shells take so much of a man's body," said Surgeon General Norman, "that there isn't anything left for the surgeon to do. I surmise that in the next great conflict, especially on the sea, we will find the wounded in many cases with half their sides blown away or most of their faces gone."

According to this authority there is little question but the next great war will be short and ghastly. This opinion met with unanimous agreement on the part of the other military and naval surgeons gathered from all parts of the world. To the danger from great shells and high-power missiles in general is added the danger coming from noxious fumes and gases thrown off by new explosives. Not only is the position of the soldier and sailor more precarious than ever, according to Dr. Henry Allers, chief surgeon of the New Jersey National Guard, there is increased danger in the post of the surgeon.

"The surgeon's job, in time of action, is going to be more difficult than ever," said Dr. Allera. "As a rule a surgeon and three assistant surgeons accompany each regiment on the march. Our position is at the rear of the command, but in action some are on the firing line, some are back at the first aid dressing station, others at the rear at what is known as the field hospital.

"We are non-combatants, and must go unprotected, save for a revolver, into the danger zones where the bullets singe most unpleasantly near. As inventors perfect new death-dealing devices the position of the surgeon becomes one of great danger."

A unique feature of the convention was the establishment of a military camp, perfect in all its details, to demonstrate the great improvement made in sanitation. Daily exhibitions of field work were also given. One of these drills, showing what happens to a man who is wounded on the field of battle is carried on as follows:

A bugler falls on the field, shot in the leg at a dangerous point above the knee. A regimental doctor and two assistants rush to him and drag him out of the range of the firing. The hospital surgeon, running fast, looks him over in a moment, fastens a linen tag to his left shirt sleeve and hurries on to the next case. The tag is the diagnosis of the case. It is white, with a narrow blue margin, and on it printed: "Transportation required." It means that the soldier is so badly wounded he cannot walk, and two assistants are dispatched for a litter on which to bear him to the field hospital.

If the soldier has been so badly wounded that removal to the hospital might have caused death, the surgeon would have left a red-margined tag, bearing the inscription, "Not able to endure transportation." If there is some hope, physicians come to operate upon him where he lies, and leave a detachment to care for him.

But if a soldier has nothing more than a severe gunshot wound, like the hypothetical case quoted, the "first aid" [illegible] to the wound, while bandages are wrapped around the leg to stop bleeding. Then, with grass and weeds for padding, heavy wooden splints are bound tightly about the leg, from hip to heel, and the patient is ready for removal to the field hospital.

The "first aid" work is something the surgeons of all armies and navies are working hard to perfect. Great advances have been made in this line of work in recent years, and the wounded are much more quickly and capably cared for than of old.

Camp sanitation is also a study that is taking much of the attention of military surgeons. It is generally agreed that the United States army has scored a triumph in the sanitary arrangements of its Texas mobilization camps. Two years ago 20,000 men were put into camp at San Antonio, and not a man died of typhoid. Today at the great camp at Texas City there is only one per cent of sickness among the troops that have been stationed there for months. Army methods, it is pointed out, have reduced the death rate in Panama to four per 1000, whereas the death roll among the French, during the period they worked on the canal, was 280 per thousand. It is estimated that it is costing the government only one per cent per man per day for sanitation on the Isthmus.

BEAUTIFYING PANAMA CANAL

The moralist is to find in the administrative record of Colonel Goethals a lesson for all time as to the results of honor plus will to achieve and professional efficiency. The economist and statesman is to find in the isthmian shortcut a major factor in shaping twentieth century political and industrial history. The mariner, trader and tourist are to look upon the canal as a feat in engineering wrought to shrink the earth, reduce voyages and make over the world's time schedules and transport rates for their benefit. But what of the artist, the lover of the beautiful? Is he to be drawn thither by any proofs of many's skill in combining the great in engineering with the great in civic planning and adorning? Fortunately those persons who have seen Pennell's etchings of the canal while it was being built have no doubt as to the esthetic appeal of the work at that stage. But what of the permanent appeal?

Quite early in the process of making this waterway the national commission of fine arts was enlisted in the endeavor to conserve ideals of beauty as well as of utility. Its formal preliminary report is soon to be made public. With its publication the [illegible] already has been done, and what awaits the doing, if full advantage is to be taken of the exceptional opportunities such as any refined nation would be prompt to seize. It will be found, we believe, that so far as the canal itself is concerned, there is little that needs to be done. As one of the commissioners had said, he being a great sculptor, "The canal, like the Pyramids, is impressive from its scale, simplicity and directness. To attempt to beautify it would be impertinence." Where the artist adviser can aid the government, and no doubt will do so, will be in devising those forms of lighthouses, public buildings, docks and entrance monuments which will be needed in the zone and on the islands of the terminal harbors. He can give to these otherwise prosaic structures a symbolic character worthy of their site and use. He also, in conjunction with the city planner and social engineer, can aid the government in making the towns that are to expand with the coming years charming in accord with the best contemporary urban ideals. Especially in the new town of Balboa at the Pacific end of the canal will there be a chance for the United States to teach the nations how to create and carry on a community life under conditions that are peculiar to the climate—[illegible]

LIONS AND FLY PAPER

You know what a ferocious, powerful beast the lion is. You can imagine what strong chains it would take to hold him fast. So, can you even imagine a lion captured with fly paper? Well, not so very long ago, four huge man-eating lions were taken in that manner at the village of Gwallow, in India.

It happened that the head man of the village was able to shut the four lions up in a hut into which they had ventured in search of prey. He kept them thus barricaded for nearly two weeks, no one being willing to attempt to capture them. Finally he thought of a scheme that proved as successful as it was original.

He had thousands of sheets of fly paper spread on the ground about the entrance to the hut. Suddenly, the barricades were lifted and the four lions came bounding out—into the fly paper. Of course it stuck to their paws, and, of course, when they tried to lick it off it became stuck fast to their faces and heads. The lions promptly forgot all about human beings and, in their wild endeavors to get rid of the fly paper, rolled over and over on the ground, roaring and fighting for breath.

Then the head man and his followers rushed forward with long ropes, lassoed the plunging lions and tied them up—fly paper and all.

THE SONGS OF TODAY

Where is the present day "popular song" that may be compared with "Annie Laurie," or "My Old Kentucky Home," or "Sally in Our Alley?" Nay, where is the present day popular song that has more than an off-chance of being remembered or sung a single year hence, let alone remaining a favorite for a generation? Nowhere. In songs, as in so many other matters the one desire is to get the applause (and dollars) of the moment. If a "bearcat" dance or a sloppily sentimental ballard attracts attention to itself and income to its inventor, nothing more is asked or expected.

So of "cubist art," which is merely lunacy on canvas; so of tenderloin plays. The one thing required is not that they shall be true, or beautiful, or thoughtful, or enduring, but that they shall make money. It is strange that in an age like the present, which has so many superb achievements to its credit, and which is more deeply imbued with the sense of human brotherhood than any preceding time in history, should have come to this sorry pass in matters of art and recreation.

SPEAKING OF ROWELL

SURELY, ROWELL OF FRESNO IS A WONDERFUL MAN.

(From Sacramento Bee.)

Chester Rowell, of the Fresno Republican, has been writing letters—a very dangerous habit when a public man is as forgetful as Chester.

One innocuous letter he wrote to Congressman Church in Washington. Another—and one which should have had danger signals marked all over the envelope—he dictated to H. E. Davis, editor of the San Bernardino Index.

But the harmless epistle accidentally was directed to Editor Davis, while the dangerous correspondence fell into the hands of Congressman Church.

Then came "The Knave" in the Oakland Tribune, and published a tale to the effect that Editor Rowell had written a very peculiar letter, which had fallen into [illegible] locked in a safe in San Francisco, from which it would be released at the proper time for campaign purposes.

Then Chester faced the music and published the complete language of the letter to Davis.

MODERN PAUL'S EPISTLE.

As that epistle of the modern Paul to the San Bernardinans has become public property it is not amiss for The Bee to quote therefrom.

It was in answer evidently to a question from Davis as to what Rowell thought the Progressives of California should do in the coming campaign—whether they should battle as Progressives or as Republicans.

Upon that point, Rowell remarks:

> Personally, it seems to me that the only thing to do is to go ahead under the Progressive Party name, and I presume that is the Governor's view, though I am not authorized to speak for him.
>
> But of course we must recognize that there are many others who hold the other view, and that taking the California situation by itself, either method would be entirely justified.
>
> We are in possession of the party, and if nothing but California were involved we would have as good a right to the name "Republican" as to the name "Progressive," if we thought it worth while to keep it. We had already made the name "Republican" mean "Progressive" in California, and there would be nothing illogical or stultifying to continue in the way we started.
>
> The difficulty is that we cannot indefinitely continue a situation in California inconsistent with that in the rest of the United States. If, in the rest of the country, the struggle should be revived to make the Republican Party Progressive, we will be authorized in California, to take the leadership in that struggle, because here we have already accomplished the result.

IS NOT CONSISTENT.

> But if elsewhere the effort is through a third party, it is not consistent and cannot long be practicable for us in California to sustain a National party as progressive which our associates elsewhere are trying to break down because it is not progressive.
>
> In other words, the situation is bound to settle itself outside of California, and while that settlement may be disadvantageous to us on the immediate situation, there will be nothing for us to do but to accept it and to take the consequences of having imposed on us the more difficult task of winning in one manner after we had already accomplished the task of winning in the other.
>
> This, however, is only my personal view [illegible] one man to settle, though in the final resort I suppose the Governor will have to be the arbiter, since he is the only one to whose judgment other people will cheerfully yield.
>
> If it is possible to await the next few weeks' developments in the East before doing anything, it will probably be easier to reach an agreement then than now. But it may not be possible to wait.

* * *

QUESTION TO BE STUDIED.

> This question (that of party nominations [illegible] members of the Legislature) will have to be gone into, but if the law should turn out to mean [illegible] it may be entirely possible for local organizations to follow their local preferences as to nominations, and while maintaining the Progressive Party intact, grab the Republican Party also, wherever that seems to be worth while, and is the desire of the majority of the local voters. To me the procedure seems to be impracticable, illogical, and inconsistent, and obviously it cannot continue indefinitely.
>
> If, however, it should seem to be the practical method of meeting some local conditions and is the desire of the local people, I have no squeamishness about it, provided the law permits.

Isn't that delicious?

Could anybody but Chester have written it?

Who, save himself, could have repeated a triple backward intellectual somersault and landed smilingly on his feet?

Surely, the man is a wonder.

HAVE YOU BEEN TO THE FORUM

There's a delightful surprise in store for those who have not as yet visited the Forum since the inauguration of the new winter entertainment features.

Aside from the fact that this well-known cafe is easily Oakland's most popular one, purely and simply from the fact that Oaklanders prominent in business and social circles have made it so by their daily attendance. The added attraction of two such well-known artists as Miss Lillian Sieger, cornetist and vocalist, and Miss Ridgway, soloist, makes it at once a further increased place of interest.

Miss Sieger is of international fame as a cornetist and soloist—a big feature by herself, while Miss Ridgway was for two successful seasons featured with Sousa's band.

The superior service of this premier cafe, together with the addition of the two talented soloists and enlarged orchestra, makes a dinner or after-theater supper here one to be remembered.

TOSSETTI DIVORCE WON BY HUSBAND

Judge Mogan Decides That the Story of Wife Is Not Probable.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Judge Mogan announced from the bench yesterday that he did not credit the statement of Marguerite Tossetti that she had been compelled by her husband to commit arson. He therefore denied her the divorce for which she has been striving during the past week and awarded the decree to John Tossetti.

The Tossetti case has been rendered notorious through the fact that E. M. de Martini, the bunko man, has posed in it as an alleged affinity of the defendant wife. Alleged poetry from De Martini's pen has been freely read into the record, and he has been given a great number of outings from the county jail in consequence of the trial.

Mrs. Domine Tormich Baker filed an answer to Dr. Charles R. Baker's divorce complaint yesterday, in which she reiterates the statements already made in her own complaint, which was filed but a few hours after that of her husband's.

She denies that she ever let Mark Hamilton Lorenz hug her, as her husband alleges, or bestow a kiss upon her lips. She also denies that she ever entered into a conspiracy to send Baker to a sanatorium and declares that he spent a short time in such an institution voluntarily, to recover from a spree. She complains that he once knocked her down and dragged her along the street by her clothing, and that in July, 1912, he compelled her to pawn certain jewels which were hers before marriage.

CAFES NOT RESPONSIBLE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Appellate division of the Supreme Court yesterday reversed the decisions of the lower courts which held that a restaurant proprietor is responsible for the loss of property belonging to a patron. In reversing this decision the Appellate division stood by a dissenting opinion written by Justice Seabury.

SECURITY [illegible] COMPANY

SIMS OPPOSES 'MELON CUTTING'

Congressman Declares Practice of Stockholders Should End.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—"Melon cutting" by stockholders of large railway corporations has gone on long enough undisturbed by Congress in the opinion of Representative Sims of Tennessee, who is preparing a bill to put a stop to the practice. Sims plans to introduce his measure at the next session of Congress in December and believes it will meet with the approval of a majority of the members.

The measure will propose that any interstate carrier or other corporation engaged in interstate traffic must go before the Interstate Commerce Commission and ask permission before issuing new bonds or stock. The commission is to make a careful investi- [illegible] warrant for the proposed issue and to see that it is sold to the highest bidder and the proceeds used for betterment and improvement of property.

Representative Sims declares he does not agree with the contention that Congress has not the power to regulate bond and stock sales of corporations organized under state laws.

TO MAKE REPORT ON CONSERVATION

National Commissioners Will Tell What Has Been Done.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The first national report on conservation, showing just who has been accomplished in the various states, is to be made on November 12, the day before the opening of the big conservation congress here. The report will be made by a new organization called the National Association of Conservation Commissioners, with representation from all the states.

This is the first time since the historic conference of governors at the White House, five years ago, at which the conservation movement was started, that a national report has been undertaken. Dr. George E. Condra, of Lincoln, Neb., is president of the new association, which is to meet each year with the congress.

Prospect of heated discussion on the subject of forestry has brought requests from all parts of the country for the privilege of the floor. The Congress has accepted the challenge of the Oregon Development League for a debate on the subject.

MORAL EDUCATION IS DECLARED TO BE NEED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 8.—Charles K. Taylor of Philadelphia, discussing the "Basis in Moral Education" at the International Purity Conference today, said:

"A man to be a real citizen or to be a really first-class workman must have a first-class character. A moral education should cover the whole field, including what may be termed 'political morals,' 'occupational morals' and 'private morals.'"

Dr. Keshava Deva Shastri of India discussed conditions in his native country. A large portion of today's program was of an educational nature and related to the teaching of sex hygiene in the public schools, normal schools and colleges.

TAFT SCORED BY LABOR LEADER

Morrison Says Immigration Bill Was Vetoed to Fatten Purses.

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, addressing the Western Labor Immigration Congress yesterday, denounced ex-President Taft for vetoing the immigration bill passed a year ago, and declared that employers who opposed the bill were bent on tearing down the civilization of the country to fatten their own purses.

Two hundred delegates were present, representing all the states west of the Mississippi river. Morrison predicted an enormous flow of European immigrants to the Pacific Coast through the Panama canal.

"When these strangers come, 500,000 or 800,000 of them the first year, perhaps," he said, "they will have to find work. If they can't get $3 a day, they will take 50 cents, or just enough to buy bread and avoid starvation. By admitting these people you are not only hurting yourselves, but the nation from which they come. If conditions are bad there, the only way they will ever be bettered will be by forcing the dissatisfied workers to remain and fight their own way to victory."

The national convention of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor today instructed the executive council of the department to prepare resolutions for presentation before the convention of the American Federation of Labor dealing with the question of the jurisdiction of machinists' unions over the machinery manufactured in unorganized shops, calling for the elimination of the physical examination now in vogue at United States navy yards; sug- [illegible] eight-hour law and promulgating methods of dealing with several so-called unfair firms that have given trouble to the department.

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, in urging that trade union exhibit at the San Francisco Exposition be a good one, says that it has been practically agreed that there will be no convention of the federation next year, and that the 1915 convention shall be held in San Francisco early in 1915.

END OF STRIKE IN INDIANAPOLIS

Employes of Company Win in Fight for Arbitration of Demands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8. — The strike of the employes of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company was settled late yesterday through the offices of Governor Samuel M. Ralston. The employes won their demand for arbitration, but nothing is said about recognition of the union in the terms of settlement.

Street car service is resumed, according to the terms of the settlement of the strike, which also provides against any further interference with the operation of cars.

All the men who were in the employ of the company on October 31st, when the strike was called, and all employes who had been discharged on account of joining the union, are to be reinstated by the company, with full seniority rights and without prejudice. The company, however, is not compelled to reinstate men who engaged in violence during the strike. Men refused reinstatement for this reason, however, may appeal to the Public Utilities Commission of Indiana for a hearing.

Disputes and grievances as to wages, hours, conditions and service will be referred to the Utilities Commission for arbitration if the company and employes fail to reach a mutual agreement within ten days. The company must take up these grievances with its employes within five days after the resumption of service. The Utilities Commission, by the terms of settlement, must render a decision within thirty days from the date of the first hearing. This decision shall be binding on all parties interested for three years and shall date back to the time of resumption of work. In addition to the union officials and traction company officers the agreement was signed by Ethelbert Stewart, representing the United States Government, and Governor Samuel M. Ralston for the State of Indiana.

"TANK FARM" IS PLAN; MAY BUY BIG RANCH

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—It became known last night that the Standard Oil Company is negotiating for the purchase of 800 acres of land on the A. C. Blume ranch here, for the purpose of establishing an enormous "tank farm." The company owns 400 acres adjoining the Blume ranch and is desirous of adding to its storage areas. It is reported that the Standard Oil has offered $210 an acre for the land, on which huge tanks will be erected for the storage of oil. The site upon the hills is an ideal one for the purpose.

W. S. Rheem, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, admitted tonight that he was negotiating for land for a "tank farm," but refused to discuss the report that the Blume ranch had been purchased.

MOTHER! NO USE TAKING CHANCES

If Child Is Cross, Feverish, Costive, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated faste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Dont be fooled!

MILK FOR GOVERNORS COSTS HIGH; FIGHT

EUREKA, Nov. 8.—The milk and cream supplied to Governors Ernest Lister of Washington and Hiram Johnson of California when they were guests at a spread given in their honor at Dinsmore's resort while en route to the good roads rally in Eureka cost $2500, according to a verdict in the Superior court here yesterday.

The men who will foot the bill are William C. Dinsmore and his three brothers. On the day the Governors were due Dinsmore's milch cows strayed on to a homestead owned by Earl P. Burns, who corralled the animals. Dinsmore was anxious to get his stock home in order to obtain milk and cream for the banquet, and a quarrel arose, and Burns was severely beaten.

Burns brought suit for $5000 damages, and the jury gave him half that amount.

URSE 8-HOUR LAW TO BE ARGUED

Merritt Hospital Trustees Will Have Hearing Next Tuesday.

Losing Side to Appeal Directly to United States Supreme Court.

Deputy District Attorney Walter Burpee will appear before United States District Judges Van Fleet, Dooling and Morrow, sitting enbanc next Tuesday, for the pur- [illegible] by the trustees of the Merritt Hospital Association against State Labor Commissioner McLaughlin and District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes, to restrain them from enforcing the eight-hour law for graduate nurses which was passed by the last legislature.

From the findings of the District Court, the case will be appealed by the losing [illegible] United States Supreme Court under provisions of a recent Act of Congress which makes it possible for such cases heard in Circuit and District Courts to reach a quick decision.

The suit is similar to a number brought at the instigation of the Allied Hospital Association of California for the purpose of testing the eight-hour law as applying to graduate nurses. A decision in the matter is one anxiously awaited throughout the state owing to its widespread effect upon the efficiency of hospital service. Since the law was passed the question of its legality has been a much-mooted question among men in the legal profession and of great interest to thousands of nurses.

CASE TO GO HIGHER.

Deputy Burpee will appear in behalf of District Attorney Hynes, who was made a party to the suit. In event that the case goes against the defendants, Burpee will go to Washington at once to present the matter in the Supreme Court. In any event the case will go before the highest tribunal in the land at the earliest convenience of the District Court and it is believed that a decision can be reached early in 1914.

Attorney Charles S. Wheeler will appear for the Merritt Hospital trustees, taking the stand that the law should not be enforced, for constitutional reasons. Attorney Albert Roche of San Francisco is associated with the defense.

Pending the appeal to the higher courts, the defendants to the suit have been enjoined from enforcing the law.

The petition was filed in behalf of the Socialist party. It provides for the amendment of the political code by adding a new section to be known as section 393½. Chief Deputy Clerk Johnstone will commence to verify the signatures before the petition is forwarded to the secretary of state.

Olden Days Are Recalled at Affair

Grandmothers Entertained at Club

HERE ARE SOME OF THE GRANDMOTHERS WHO WERE GUESTS OF THE ADELPHIAN CLUB.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 8.—Alamedans are still talking of the magnificence of other days as revealed Thursday afternoon at the Adelphian club, when 58 grandmothers, all members of the organization, were the guests of honor at the November union meeting. Jewels and laces, satins and silks, hoopskirts and pompadours, with nosegays and fans, proclaimed the belles of yesteryear.

Memories of days gone by were recalled by rustling taffetas and soft peau de soies, polonaise and basques. Faces that the years have touched with faintest traces were framed in curls or frilled lace.

As the guests arrived they were met at the door by the oldest of the grandmothers, including Mrs. L. L. Gillogly, Mrs. Agnes Brown, Mrs. Joseph F. Forderer, Mrs. Pames A. Waymire, Mrs. Jacob Browning and Mrs. W. H. Robinson.

The affair of yesterday will live long in the memories of those who attended. There was something quaint and homelike about the entire assemblage which appealed greatly.

Following the rendition of an excellent program the grandmothers enjoyed a feast, a social hour of reminiscences being included.

BERLIN, Nov. 8. — Danish King Christian's court marshal telegraphed to the Thalia Theater here the other day for tango music, as the dance was to be introduced immediately in the Copenhagen court.

A reply was sent that no tango music had been published yet, and that the only way it could be obtained was to pay a high price for a manuscript copy.

WOMAN SUES TO REGAIN JEWELS

Mrs. Lee Ladanyi Wants Earrings and Watch Back Again.

Marital Tangle Again Aired in Legal Fight for Property.

Mrs. Hannah Ladanyi, wife of a wealthy Washington street liquor dealer, who divorced her husband in 1905, remarried him within a year and then sued him for divorce in a complaint secretly filed September 13 last, brought suit against Lee Ladanyi today to recover $600 in diamond jewelry which is said to be in custody of a large San Francisco jewelry firm. The jewelry company is made a co-defendant to the action.

The property which Mrs. Ladanyi seeks to obtain possession of pending her suit for divorce consists of two pair of diamond earrings set in gold and platinum, one crescent ruby and diamond pin and one woman's gold watch and chain which plaintiff says are illegally held by her husband. That the articles are of special design and of a character which cannot be duplicated for a sum greatly in excess of the value she has placed upon them, Mrs. Ladanyi explains as her reason for not asking further damages from her husband.

REJECTS ALIMONY.

After Mrs. Ladanyi had obtained an order restraining her husband from disposing of any of his property pending the divorce suit, she went into court on September 26 and had her motion for $100 per month alimony dropped, with the understanding that it could be reinstated on three days' notice.

The couple were married for the first time in St. Louis in [illegible] later, in 1905, they were divorced, and a year after were married again in Atlantic City, N. J.

For some time Ladanyi has conducted a liquor establishment at 1014 Washington street. In her suit for divorce Mrs. Ladanyi alleges that her husband treated her in a cruel manner for some time past, finally refusing to speak to her. While they were living at 647 Fourteenth street she says that on September 6 last her husband took separate apartments. A week later she filed her suit for divorce.

SPOUSE IS WEALTHY.

Mrs. Ladanyi says that her husband has a business worth $5000 with an income of $250 per month and that in addition he has realty valued at $8000.

SLIT SKIRT GIRL IS TOO 'SASSY'

Judge Don't Like Her Words and She Is Put in Prison.

PASSAIC, Nov. 8.—Miss Mary Adamson, 22 years old, who gave her address as Newark, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail for wearing a slit skirt.

Miss Adamson spent the first part of Sunday afternoon parading up and down, displaying her skirt and other things. The slash reached to her knee, and no petticoat hid her silk stockings. When Policeman Bofferd's attention was called to her, the girl was indulging in repartee with a crowd of young men. Her language shocked the policeman as much as her skirt, so he locked her up. She was arraigned this afternoon.

The judge deprecated the failure to wear a petticoat, and asked why. The young woman answered that it was nobody's business save her own. Her reply was made one-half minute before the sentence [illegible]

DIVORCE HEARING HAS CRUEL SHAFT

Dunnigan vs. Dunnigan Hits Peace Making Judge Graham Bitter Blow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Judge Graham's reputation as a reconciler of warring couples and a big brother to the mischievous god Cupid was rudely shattered during the testimony of Mrs. Edith V. Dunnigan, who is suing for divorce from Clarence Dunnigan, a drug clerk, in Judge Griffin's court. When Mrs. Dunnigan took the stand today she told of the cruelties heaped upon her by her spouse and declared that on one occasion he came home with a beefsteak and instead of handing it to her for the evening meal he threw it to the dog and said, "Now run to Judge Graham and get your divorce."

Judge Graham has hitherto been reckoned a difficult man from whom to get a decree by reason of his desire to mend broken hearts. Mrs. Dunnigan told further of being forced to take her meals at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hopper, in order to get enough to eat, and claimed that Dunnigan bought her no clothes, although spending money lavishly on his sister. She was given her decree.

ROBBERY OF INDIANS DISCLOSED BY INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Gross misappropriation of funds belonging to the minor children of the five civilized tries in Oklahoma has been disclosed by investigations conducted by Secretary Lane. The secretary announced today that he would call the cases to the attention of a federal grand jury and begin criminal prosecution.

Secretary Lane found that the property rights of Indian minors of Oklahoma, who, on the average, are the richest children in the country, have less protection than those of the children of any other state. He discovered that the cost of settling a white minor's estate is approximately 3 per cent, but the cost of administering the estate of an Indian minor was about 20 per cent, and frequently when a minor Indian child came into his property a large part of it had been dissipated.

Secretary Lane today issued orders instituting radical reforms in the administrating of estates of Indian children, and thereby hundreds of thousands of dollars will be saved to the Indian children.

OPPOSE SKIRTS FOR WOMEN BEACH BATHERS

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Skirtless bathing suits for women and segregated sunbaths for "beach bathers" were recommended at a meeting of the city council health committee.

The meeting was the result of the arrest of Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova last summer when she went into the water at the Jackson park free beach in a bloomer suit, minus a skirt.

Dr. Ladova, Mrs. L. Brackett, Bishop and Mrs. O'Malley, wife of Dr. Thomas J. O'Malley, former member of the board of education, were announced as the chief advocates of the skirtless suits.

Arguments were made also against the wearing of stockings by women bathers [illegible] expense.

Norman C. B. Cox, swimming instructor of the Chicago Athletic Association, said, "Not any of the requirements of propriety are served by the drapery of a wet skirt."

It is not thought that all of the captains will be moved and it is known that Captain Mooney will not be transferred from the detective bureau.

The most important and significant of the changes will be among the special duty men and detective sergeants in the upper office, some of whom in the judgement of the chief had not made good. BLOOD-CRIMSONED SHIRT IS EXHIBIT

J. B. Lavender Displays Evidence Which Exonerates Him From Contempt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — A shirt and collar crimsoned with human blood and used as an exhibit in Superior Judge Dooling's court today saved J. B. Lavender, a solicitor, from possible punishment for contempt, as the result of his failure to obey a subpoena issued by the referee in bankruptcy. The case was that of Herman Murphy, a realty broker, against whom an involuntary bankruptcy suit was brought. Lavender had been employed by Murphy and told the court that he had been warned by the latter not to appear and give testimony and that Murphy had emphasized his admonition by assaulting him. As proof of the attack the two exhibits were shown. Judge Dooling had cited Lavender to show cause why he should not be punished. When, however, he learned the state of affairs, he informed Lavender that he would have to obey the summons and give his testimony and that as far as Murphy was concerned, his case would be attended to later.

COLONEL GEORGE POPE AUTO FIRM RECEIVER

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 8. — Although there was opposition to the confirmation of Colonel George Pope as temporary receiver of the Pope Manufacturing Company at the hearing before Judge Tuttle in the Superior Court yesterday, he was confirmed as temporary receiver, and a hearing on the appointment of a permanent receiver was set for December 5th.

A stockholders' protective committee in Boston controlling 25,995 shares asked the appointment of Frank J. Tyler of Boston as an additional receiver. These interests objected to the present management of the company as extravagant.

Counsel representing holders of more than half the note indebtedness asked the additional appointment of Charles A. Morse of Boston, a manufacturer and banker and well known Massachusetts financier.

Question of Who Threw Them and Who Will Remove 'Em Grows Intense.

LINDSBURG, Kas. Nov. 8.—Whether the city marshal of Lindsborg holds his job depends on whether the city marshal swallows his dignity, climbs up the side of the building in which John F. Hanson, an attorney, has his offices and clears off sundry blotches left there when a fusillade of ancient eggs expressed in loud odors the feeling of numerous boys of Lindsborg toward Hanson.

The eggs episode is only one of numerous stormy experiences Hanson has [illegible] last [illegible] ten years. In this particular case the resentment against him grows out of the lawyer's prosecution of a local tobacco dealer for selling "the makin's" to a minor. The Kansas law makes that a misdemeanor, but the law is more honored in the breach than in the observance, except when some crusader like Hanson takes a whirl at enforcing it.

As a result of Hanson's activity the tobacco dealer was fined $25. Execution was suspended on the dealer's promise to observe the law, and fearing prosecution, other tobacco dealers refused to sell to minors. Suddenly deprived of their smoke, the town boys became angry and gradually a determination to have revenge grew up in their breasts.

ANCIENT EGGS COME.

Hanson having been the instrumentality of their deprivation, Hanson naturally was the object of their revenge. As the lawyer passed along the street a shower of eggs whistled through the air in his direction. Fortunately for the lawyer—the eggs having been of a somewhat ancient vintage—he escaped unscathed, except for the outrage to his olfactory nerves.

The boys couldn't hit Hanson, but they could hit the side of a house one out of three times, and with the remainder of their eggs they pretty well plastered up the side of the building in which he has his office. Now, it is physically impossible for any town marshal to be everywhere at once, and it just so happened that the town marshal—who is said to be no friend of Hanson's, anyway—was not in the vicinity when the eggs were being thrown. But, the mayor said, he ought to have been there, and, furthermore, said the mayor, for not having been there, the city marshal can just get a ladder climb up the side of the building and wash off those egg blotches. If the city marshal doesn't clean 'em off, the mayor knows where he can get another city marshal. And there you are.

"—— IF I DO," MARSHAL SAYS.

Ever hear of such an unreasonable mayor? the city marshal asks. He surely never did, and dinged if he's going to clean off them there eggs.

But the mayor says if the city marshal can't marshal enough to keep boys from throwing eggs at prominent residents he'll get a man who can. Also, Hanson serves notice that if the mayor and the city council don't find out who threw the eggs he will have them arrested and fined, and if anybody throws any more eggs at him he will sue the city for damages.

Which is the situation until the marshal refuses to clean off the eggs and gets away with it, or does clean 'em off, or the mayor fires the marshal and gets a new man for that job.

JAILED BIGAMIST READY FOR SIXTH

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8.—The blue goggles have vanished from the eyes of "Barney" Jacobs, horsetrader and bigamist, and as he talks in his cell in the Wyandotte County jail the illusion of a halo appears above his head. A woman from Olathe, 26 and pretty, and, as Barney says, an old, old friend, has been the angel of transformation.

Barney, who admits that he has been the husband of five women and that he cannot remember positively whether there were more, was sure last week that womankind was at last indifferent to him. It made him a gloomy man. Neither his latest wife, who [illegible] vengeance against her tricky husband, nor any of the other four, who consoled themselves with tears and philosophy, called at the jail or sent a message.

But in a few days the Olathe woman [illegible] with a basket of fruit. Since that time she has not missed a day, and always she brings dainty things [illegible] sympathetic words.

"I wouldn't tell you her name and set the gossips talking," Barney said this morning, "but she is a wonderful woman. She is converting me to sensible ideas about marriage, and that's a big job, you'll admit.

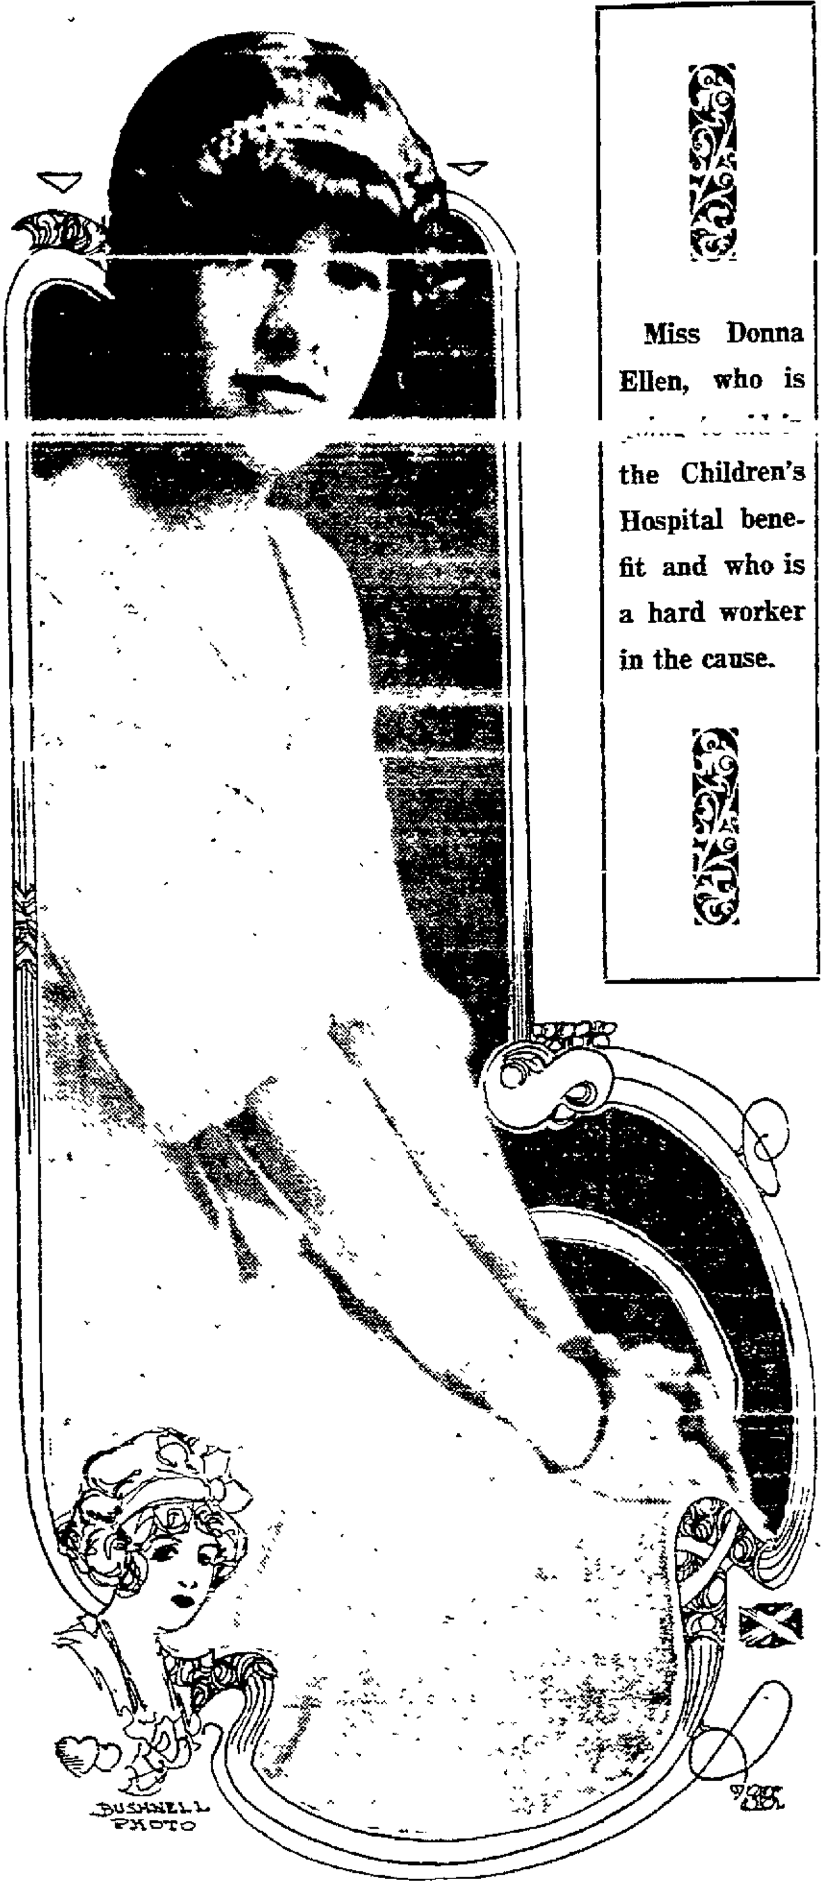
TIRED OF DON JUAN ROLE.

"Barney,' she says, "the next time you marry must be good and make it once for all. If you ever get out of this you must marry again—just once more—and stay married.'

"And that's going to be my program if I get out of this—marry [illegible] be good and stay married. I'm tired o fthis Don Juan role."

Jacobs was convicted of bigamy in the Wyandotte County District Court about two weeks ago. He is awaiting sentence.

Players' Club Rehearsing New Extravaganza in Work



Miss Donna Ellen, who is [illegible] the Children's Hospital benefit and who is a hard worker in the cause.

Rehearsals are in full swing for the musical extravaganza entitled "The Girl With a Voice," to be given for the benefit of the Children's hospital of this city, November 17, 18 and 19, in the Macdonough Theater under the direction of the Players' Club. Two hundred graceful belles of the bay cities will appear in the ensembles, which will be features of the production, to be staged for the first time here Monday evening, November 17.

The thespians who scored a hit in the performance given last year have volunteered their services for the coming production, which will be one of the smart dramatic events of the season.

The cast has been carefully selected. The leading role will be essayed by Miss Carola Kuss of this city. Miss Donna Ellen and Miss Jessaline Horton, who have frequently contributed to causes for sweet charity's sake, will be among the artists.

Many of the smartest folk of the bay district have been invited to act as patronesses.

'RAG ON!' ADVICE OF BIG SIGN; MISSING LETTERS DO TRICK

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Berkeleyans who glanced toward the higher end of the city this morning saw, with a gasp of astonishment, the mystic advice, "Rag On," written in great letters of white upon the northern sky. Members of the Berkeley assembly, in which ragging was introduced this season for the first time, rubbed their eyes in glad astonishment at the apparently supernatural justification of their course. Members of the Berkeley Cottillion and the Benedicts' Club took a second look and decided that advice thus ethereally given should henceforth be obeyed. The lettering was unmistakably "Rag On," and nothing else, and seemed suspended in mid-air. A practical few refused, however, to believe in a supernatural origin for the sign. Investigating they found that Terpsichore's agents had been a group of boys who visited the hills north of the city last evening. Armed with hammers and axes and lighted by an electric torch they had subtracted the C, M and T from the giant Cragmont sign on the hilltops, leaving "RAG ON" startingly distinct.

SONS EXPENSIVE, SAYS 'DOC' DAVIS

Also He Has Other Trite Remarks to Contribute to Rising Generation.

SAYS "DOC" DAVIS.

The most expensive animal on the farm is a son. When you want 'em to work they most generally want to do something else. Hired hands are cheaper than sons.

Judge a hired man by his wife. If she is thrifty, he'll be worth hiring. If she is shiftless she'll ruin him for work, no matter how good he is to start with.

Ha! Ha! I wouldn't tell you wrong, brother.

Thomasville is the oldest town in Missouri, but that's all it has got. It's so small that if one of the inhabitants died there wouldn't be enough of 'em left to bury him.

I'd rather raise cattle than practice medicine. Ha! Ha!—From the philosophy of "Doc" J. M. Davis of Thomasville, Oregon County, Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8.—The way "Dock" J. M. Davis looks at it Southern Missouri now offers the best opportunities to the cattle raiser. In fact, the doctor is so impressed with the way he looks at it he quit practicing medicine four years ago to go into the cattle business near Thomasville, Oregon county, sixteen miles from a railroad. And they do say "Doc" was the favorite prac- [illegible]

Doctor Davis is in Kansas City to buy a thoroughbred Aberdeen Angus bull for his herds in Southern Missouri. He is a member of the American Royal.

"We've got about [illegible] thousand acres in cattle and feed, me and my partners," said "Doc" this morning. "Best country in the world down there to raise cattle. 'Tisn't too hot, 'tisn't too cold. Grow blue stem grass high as your head. Grow Kaffir, clover and corn. Down in the creek bottom you can raise fine corn. Fact, we beat the rest of Missouri in corn this year. Maybe you won't believe it, but I've got as fine a stand of bluegrass on my place as you ever saw.

"There's only one drawback to our country. Help is mighty scarce. Have a lot of trouble getting good hired hands. There ain't but one way to judge a hired man when you hire him. Judge him by his wife. If she's thrifty, he'll be worth hiring.

"I reckon about the most expensive animal on a farm is a son. When you want 'em to work they most generally want to do something else. My boy ain't much of a farmer now, but I'm going to send him to university and I reckon he'll make a good one after a while. But one farm hand is worth a whole lot of sons sometimes."

RATS LEGAL REASON FOR VACATING HOUSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The unusual defense that a house was so infested with rats that the man who rented it could not live there in peace and contentment, is declared to be good in law.

The case so decided is that of Louis G. Garlichs against Fredericks Preston of Brooklyn. He had a five months' contract on the house. The rent was to be $3.50. He lived there for a time, but said the rats so annoyed him he had to move. Garlichs immediately brought suit to recover the balance due on the con- [illegible] ton's view.

The militant suffragettes threaten to pipe all sorts of merry tunes at the wedding of the duchess of Fife today.

DOUBLE HEADER BARRING RAIN

Sunday to See Two Games at Richmond, the Weather Permitting.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—The baseball fans of this city are earnestly sending forth a prayer that old Jupiter Pluvius will not uncork any gentle rain for the coming games which are to be played on the local ball diamond Sunday afternoon between the various teams now playing in the Midwinter League.

[illegible] rather slushy shape last Sunday, Dick Greathouse, manager of the grounds for the league, promises that the diamond will be in first-class condition for the game Sunday afternoon. The curtain-raiser for that day will be a nine-inning struggle between the Santa Fe nine and the winery lads. Although the Calwa boys have been playing in hard luck of late, the fans of this city look for them to give the Ripleyites a tough old time. The second game of the afternoon will be between the Richmonds, who are leading the league at the present time, and the Standard Oils, who are tied for second place with the Santa Fe.

INVITATIONS OUT FOR BIG DANCE

November 15 Fixed as the Date for Dance; Park to Be Scene.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—The students of the Polytechnic business college of this city are working and striving these days toward making their second annual ball, which is to be held at East Shore park on Saturday evening, November 15, a big success.

The hall is to be decorated for the occasion in pennants and colors of the school. Music for the dance will be furnished by the park orchestra. The committees which will have charge of the dance are as follows: Floor—Herbert Coyer, G. D. Christian, Harold Brinham and Duncan Campbell; reception—Misses Erma Richey, Agnes Pieper, Julia Farnocchia, Eva Snow, Ruth Wilson, Neva Nunn and Messrs. Harry A. Monroe and S. B. Smith; introduction—Misses Niomi Troutman, Marian O'Brien, Ruth Wright, Viola Isaacson and Messrs. Dwight Howard, Leslie Pitchford and Walton Jardine; refreshment — Thomas Krinzer, Charles Wees, Lloyd DeLap and Carl Rinehart.

TICKETS OUT FOR BIG BENEFIT AT RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—Tickets are out for the "Chimes of Normandy," which will be held at the Richmond opera house November 24. After rehearsal last evening, which was held in the Point Richmond opera house, the tickets for the opera were distributed among the members, the price of which is 50 cents.

The rehearsal held last evening was very encouraging and indications point to a production of this opera that cannot be surpassed anywhere. All the little details for the opera are being carried out so that on the evening when the local actors make their debut before the people of this city nothing will be in the way to hamper them from making the "Chimes of Normandy" a big success. Mrs. C. R. Blake, who plays the part of Serpolette, the village mischief-maker, has a part that is brimful of comedy and activity. The cast and chorus, containing some 43 people, will be announced later.

HURT IN FALL.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—H. S Lane, carpenter, was painfully hurt in a fall from the roof of a building upon which he was working yesterday afternoon. He was attended at Roosevelt hospital, having suffered scalp wounds and other painful contusions. He resides at 1833 Bancroft way. He was at work at Grove and Rose streets on a new house when he lost his balance and fell from a second story window.

DANCE IS PLANNED CLUB TO ENTERTAIN

MRS. ERNEST STODDARD PAGE

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—A second card and dancing party as a benefit for the club building fund, is planned by the Twentieth Century club for the evening of Saturday, November 29. Tables for players will be arranged downstairs at the club's new building, while dancing will proceed for those who prefer that diversion on the second floor.

The Home association of the club found the first benefit, held last month, a very successful affair. Mrs. Frank J. Solinsky is directing the arrangements for this second similar event. Assisting her are Mrs. Ernest Stoddard Page, Mrs. Wallace R. Pond, Mrs. Annie Little Barry, Mrs. G. S. Whitley, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Mrs. Frederick Crowell, Mrs. Stephen Kieffer and Mrs. J. H. Wood.

FINES TEACH COURT ETIQUETTE TO WITNESS

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—"I've got too much business to spend time coming to this court," declared Joseph Simontacci, complaining witness against Antone Viale, accused of assault to murder, when he arrived in Judge Edgar's court yesterday afternoon forty minutes late. The remark cost him ten dollars.

"I don't like to be bothered with this court business," he told the judge a while later while being examined. That cost him another ten dollars, and thereafter he was a model witness.

Viale was held to answer to the superior court by Judge Edgar in $5000 bonds. On October [illegible], according to witnesses, Viale attempted to shoot Simontacci while the latter was standing in the doorway of his home. He missed Simontacci both times. Simontacci, a baker, had dismissed him a few nights before.

NOISE TROUBLES TWO SECTIONS OF BERKELEY

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—The city council last night listened to protests from residents of the neighborhood of McGee and Hearst avenues against the presence at that corner of a transmission station of the Pacific Gas and Electric company. Noise made by the station kept them awake nights and made their days hideous, they declared. George Gelder was spokesman for the protestants. The matter was referred by the council to committee of the whole.

Representatives of Regents' Park improvement club appeared to protest against the presence in their midst of the mill of the Patrick-Nelson company, for a similar reason. It was also alleged that the company had never had a building permit for the mill, the removal of which the protestants demanded. This matter was also referred by the council.

ALBANY BRIEFS

ALBANY, Nov. 8.—The Women's Improvement club is planning a masquerade for Thanksgiving eve as a benefit to the fountain fund. The committee planning the affair includes Mrs. J. H. Paul, chairman, Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. John Glavinovich, Mrs. Locke, Mrs. Mattos and Mrs. Hall.

Rings in the basement of the Albany school have been removed because of frequent accidents to children thereon recently. Ernest Juarez fell from the rings, Thursday breaking a bone in the forearm. Gordon Tibbittes previously received a fractured arm in a similar fall.

The Albany Civic League held its second evening of "social whist" last night at the home of Mrs. Boysen. There were a large number in attendance. Refreshments were served.

El Cerrito club is planning a vaudeville for next Saturday evening, the nature of which will not be divulged before the curtain rises at the high school at 8 o'clock, except that a one-act skit, full of local hits, will be a feature.

SERVICE BY WOMEN.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—The unusual plan of a church service conducted entirely by women will be tried at the First Baptist church tomorrow evening when the members of the Cornerstone club will have charge of the program. In place of the usual sermon Mrs. Oscar Maillard Bennett will interpret Kennedy's "The Servant in the House." The music will be by a women's choir. The only masculine voice to be raised during the evening will be that of the pastor, Rev. David A. Pitt, in scriptural reading.

DEATH CALLS FATHER OF HULL McCLAUGHRY

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Samuel C. McClaughry, a pioneer of the Sacramento valley, died late last night at the home of his son, Hull McClaughry, at 17 Plaza drive. He had made his home with his son for some time since the settlement of the difficulties between the latter and his former wife, Mrs. Anita Baldwin McClaughry, the daughter of the late "Lucky" Baldwin.

McClaughry was 77 yearsof age and a native of New York. He came to this state when a young man and engaged in business here. He resided for many years at Sacramento, where his wife died some years ago. The remains will be shipped to Sacramento for interment.

TO ADDRESS TEACHERS.

BERKELEY, Nov. 8.—Dr. Harold W. Fairbanks, naturalist and author, will speak to the teachers of this city at the next meeting of their association, next Thursday afternoon at the Emerson school. His subject will be "Educational Systems of Germany."

WITH the opening of the social season, dinners, as a form of social entertainment, assume much importance, for a dinner is usually a test of friendship. Everyone the hostess knows is asked to a large tea or reception, and if her drawing-room were not crowded she would feel that her at home was a failure. Fewer people are asked to a bridge afternoon, yet the list is sometimes a large one.

But with dinners things are entirely different. Sometimes they are planned with a definite purpose, and great statesmen have in many cases appreciated dinners as a means to an end. One of them has written:

"Have not all the great things of life been begun over some tea table, carried on at a luncheon, and completed between the soup and the cordials?

"Kings, diplomats and statesmen have long since agreed that for baiting a trap there is nothing like a soup, an entree and a roast, the whole moistened by a flagon of honest wine."

There are the dinners in which grave problems are discussed by noted people, and the dinners in which just a few intimate friends, who know each other very well, are delightfully entertained. Bridge and dancing now serve to make interesting, and sometimes merry, the after-dinner hour formerly so much dreaded by the hostess. And with the magnificent records now to be had, the wonderful voices of great artists may furnish a delightful half-hour of music.

Dinners at the Claremont Club are very popular, especially when the hostess has young guests. They have a delightful evening, because there is an orchestra, and dancing is in order. The dinner does not give the hostess a great deal of trouble. She is not responsible for the menu, and the club provides the after-dinner entertainment.

Of all the clubs, the one which seems to have best mastered the art of dinner giving is the Home Club, and men seem to greatly enjoy going there. One always finds a delightful after-dinner program, and there are card tables cozily established, where a fascinating game of bridge or auction may be played.

We have made a great success of our tea dances, and now the dinner dance puts in a plea for favor, so dinner dances twice a week are to be given at the Oakland.

Certain homes in the past always stand out as ideal environments for notable dinners. One of the most famous of California dinners was that given at the Hacienda by Mrs. Hearst, who entertained in honor of Dr. Reisner, the Egyptian explorer. It was an Egyptian dinner, with tables set in the patio, and the favors were lovely Egyptian gifts.

Among the most notable dinner hostesses on our side of the bay has been Mrs. Isaac Requa, who has perhaps received more distinguished guests than any other hostess on this side of the bay. The Requas have been friends with the railroad set, which has made such remarkable history in California, and at Highlads have entertained the Fairs, the Mackays, the Huntingtons, people who are now known as well in Europe as in America.

Mrs. Requa always personally superintends the decorations of her table, and they are charming, showing the artistic touch that only one who understands flowers and their possibilities can achieve. A dinner at Highlands is an event for the favored guest to remember.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens has many most unique and enjoyable dinners to her credit, and among the leading dinner hostesses of Berkeley is Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler. She does a great deal to interest distinguished people who are visiting the university.

The young matrons of Piedmont often plan a dinner together before a dance, and it is always a bright affair, since the Piedmont young matrons are very clever, indeed.

Among recent dinners, one of the most delightful was that given by Mrs. Wallace Alexander at the Oakland, the guests going later to the Hallowe'en dance in the big ballroom of the Oakland.

Mr. Edward Greenway is to be the genial host at one of the largest and most elaborate dinners of the season. It will be given at the Fairmont on [illegible] November 14, before the [illegible] Bachelors' and Benedicks' ball. That [illegible] the official name of the dance, [illegible] almost everyone calls it the [illegible] Assembly. This is an annual [illegible] which Mr. Greenway gives, and [illegible] the guests may usually be [illegible] the leading debutantes of the [illegible]

[illegible] dinner was given last [illegible] Grove Hotel and [illegible] were Mr. and Mrs. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. James [illegible] and Mrs. [illegible]

Wilson. The latter is the author of that unique and popular book, "The Spenders."

Women make delightful after-luncheon addresses, but one does not yet see them in the role of after-dinner speakers. However, there are men who are admirable guests at dinner, and who really exert themselves to make the affair a success. They are entertaining to a degree and they are most interesting dinner partners. You can always depend upon them to give a toast or to reply to one. Among our well-known after-dinner speakers are: Robert Fitzgerald, Sam Bell McKee, Mark Requa, Dr. Philip Abbott, Mr. Coogan, Philip Clay, William R. Davis, Willis F. Kelly and Richard Partington.

Thanksgiving dinners are for family reunions, and, as everybody knows, they are November dates. No city has larger reunions than can be found on our side of the bay, in such family gatherings as include the Moores, the McNears, the Millers, the Requas, the Halls, the Crellins.

And so, as it happens that dinners play such a leading part in our social life, they are of importance, and many of the leading cards that come request the pleasure of one's company at dinner.

LITERATURE MAKES POPULAR APPEAL.

The most important affair of the week on this side of the bay is, of course, the "Book Review" at the Home Club. It is something so unique in its way, so original, that one bids fair to meet all one's friends there in the next few days. So many people love books that the Home Club will indeed be the center of attraction, and Oakland people are extremely proud of the fact that to them belongs the distinction of having the only book exhibition on the coast. These displays attract the smart sets of London and New York; in fact, everybody goes, and they offer an opportunity for gatherings along refined and intellectual lines. The exhibition is in the art gallery of the club, which is very wonderful, indeed, with splendid posters, notably those from the "Old Missions of California" and from Paul Elder's book, "Within the Garden Wall."

Smith Brothers have an exceedingly fine exhibition, one of which Oakland people are very proud. From across the bay have come lovely exhibits, and altogether the Home Club is the center of an interest dear to the hearts of our people.

The decorations are very lovely, making a most wonderful environment for the exhibit. The color study is worked out in gorgeous chrysanthemums, and autumn leaves, and grapevines, and the ensemble is charming.

Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, the able and popular president, has given a great deal of personal attention to the exhibition, and its success will owe much to her [illegible] care. Mrs. Easterbrook personally received the many guests who were present at the opening night, and she made a charming study in a most attractive gown of beautiful black lace.

Among those who were present at the Book Exhibition on Thursday evening were:

Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh
Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith
Mr. and Mrs. George B. M. Gray
Mrs. A. C. Posey
Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Lohse

Dr. and Mrs. John Louis Lohse
Dr. and Mrs. Granville Shuey
Miss Grace Sperry

Mr. and Mrs. John Valentine

The exhibition will be open to the public at the beautiful Home Club until next Thursday evening, inclusive.

How fine it is of the president and directors to keep the exhibit open on Sunday, and to announce that all are welcome within its doors.

Mrs. Easterbrook will be at the Home Club tomorrow to personally receive the guests, and she will be assisted by Judge and Mrs. John Yule.

PAGEANT PLANS ENGAGE SOCIETY.

Preparations go merrily on for the "Pageant of the Seven Seas," and among the important episodes will be that of "The American Republicans [illegible]

The chaperones of this group are Mrs. C. O. Alexander, Mrs. H. M. A. Miller, Mrs. Leroy Nickel and Mrs. Carolan. Some very lovely young girls are to be in the tableau, and among them will be Miss Beatrice Nickel, Miss Helen Garritt, Miss Jean Wheeler, Miss Marie Louise Black, Miss Elvah De Pue, Miss Rebecca Shreve, Miss Eliza McMullin, Miss Ernestine McNear.

Mrs. C. O. Alexander is a woman of splendid executive ability and a leader in the social world across the bay. Her home was formerly in this city and she has many friends over here. Mrs. Francis Carolan is now abroad, but she is coming home in the near future to exert her influence for the success of the pageant. She will bring new ideas from Europe to make it all the more artistic, and the setting for the tableaux will be planned along very gorgeous color lines.

Debutante receptions, large at homes and informal teas mark many entertainments of the season. Among the notable teas will be that given by Mrs. F. M. Smith at Arbor Villa, who is making Miss Florence Calkins her guest of honor. The latter is a niece of the Smiths. The at home will be given next Friday afternoon, and will be a most interesting date, since one always meets people of interest at Arbor Villa. It is, besides, beautifully adapted for entertaining, with its spacious hall, wide dining-room opening into the conservatory, and large drawing-room. Mrs. Smith always has a large receiving party to assist her, among whom are Miss Grace Sperry, Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mrs. N. P. Cole, Miss Marian Ellis and Mrs. Roland Oliver. The latter has established her residence at the Peralta apartments. A number of the younger matrons will also help to make the tea a success.

MRS. BRINCKERHOFF ENTERTAINS.

One of the most delightful social affairs of the week was that given by [illegible] Mrs. Thomas Bennett and Mrs. Eleanor Bennett. Mrs. Brinckerhoff entertained for them at an informal reception, given in her Piedmont home. The latter is one of the most attractive homes in the foothills, surrounded by a most picturesque garden. The verandas look out upon the garden, and are always greatly enjoyed by the guests at any social gathering in the Brinckerhoff home.

The drawing-room was very lovely in yellow charysanthemums, and in the many colored autumn foliage of the grape-vine. The at home was very informal, including for the most part the old-time friends of the hostess and guests of honor.

Among those who called during the afternoon were:

Mrs. George Gray
Miss Mabel Gray
Mrs. Frederick Wirt Potter
Mrs. A. C. Posey

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

By far the greatest coming event which concerns the local smart sets of both Oakland and San Francisco is the "Pageant of the Seven Seas." Of special interest to local society is the fact that many of the patronesses for the event will be leading matrons of Piedmont and east bay circles. Mrs. Edson Adams is to be one of the sponsors, as will Mrs. Charles Mills Gayley, Mrs. Mark L. Requa and Miss Ethel Moore. The event will take place December 2, 3 and 4 in Dreamland Rink, across the bay.

Miss Bernice Taylor, the charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Taylor, has recently returned from the East, where she has been for some time, and her return will mark the beginning of a round of affairs that have been planned in anticipation of her return to her home in Berkeley.

Miss Helen Walters is one of the popular belles who is attending the university, and this semester is attracting considerable attention by her interest in dramatic affairs at college. It is because of her charming manner towards all that Miss Walter is surrounded by a coterie of friends at the university.

[illegible] Los Angeles, where she will spend the winter. Before her marriage, not so long ago, she was Miss Ethel Moore, and was one of the favored belles of the local smart set.

MISS GHIRARDELLI WILL MAKE DEBUT.

Among the important cards sent out this week were those from Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing and Miss Carmen Dolores Ghirardelli. They announce an at home on Tuesday, November 18, the occasion marking the debut of Miss Ghirardelli. She is the second debutante to be presented this winter, and much in a social way will center around this charming young girl. The reception will be given in the family home in Piedmont, which is an ideal home for entertaining. The receiving party will include many bright and attractive people, among them Mrs. Barstow, who is Mrs. Cushing's mother, and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton Brown, Mrs. Willard Williamson, Mrs. Elizabeth Wise, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Mrs. Albert Higgins, Mrs. E. J. Henderson, Mrs. Frederick Nelson, Mrs. Henry Swafford. Among the relatives of the pretty debutante who will assist her in receiving are: Mrs. Benjamin Reed (Carmen Sutton), the Misses Corona and Esperance Ghirardelli and the Misses Agnes and Lucy Cushing. Among the debutantes in the receiving party will be the Misses Marian Rodolph, Aline Edoff, Phyllis Capwell and Anne Spring. Among the bright bevy of girls who will add interest to the receiving party will be the Misses Helen Coogan, Lila Lovell, Phyllis Lovell, Grace Ewing, Helen Downey, Helen Dabney, Hazel Ingels, Blanche Colgriff, Helen Nicoll, Cole Hewins, Pearl Cawston, Margaret Warner, Marguerite Black, Marie McHenry, Philena Wetmore, Etta Schrock and Ada Nason.

In the evening there will be a dinner dance, the guests being the receiving party with an equal number of men.

PRIVATE "MOVIES" SOCIAL DIVERSION.

The "Moving Picture" as a way of entertainment is receiving a great vogue among the elect circles of the smart sets everywhere. Of course it is still an expensive luxury in a private house, but it is in many ways a most enjoyable form of entertainment. Among those who have taken up the moving picture fad in the East is Mrs. George Gould, who has commenced her social entertainment for the season at her home, Georgetown [illegible] to entertain guests this season with the latest and best picture plays. Many orders have been placed with film companies, and [illegible]

Gould's Sunday afternoon entertainments promise to be of unusual excellence. In Santa Barbara one finds many of the best families interested in moving picture entertainments, and in our own city, the first to inaugurate the moving picture scheme of entertainment have been the P. E. Bowles.

⁂

MISS NICOL RECEIVES PRE-NUPTIAL HONORS.

Miss Helen Nicol, the young fiancee of Ensign Joseph Neilson, is the center of much social entertainment planned for November days.

Last Friday afternoon across the bay, a delightfully informal tea was given for Miss Nicol by Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale, who entertained in her Vallejo street home. Mrs. Hale's daughter, Miss Linda Bryan, is a great friend of the young bride-elect. Mrs. Washington Dodge, who is Miss Nicol's aunt, will give a luncheon for her niece on November 13, and among the guests from this side of the bay will be the Misses Dorothy and Phyllis Capwell.

The marriage of Miss Nicol and Ensign Neilson will take place in January upon the return of the cruiser Pittsburgh from Guaymas. It was ordered to Mexico last Saturday.

Miss Nicol was the guest of honor at a tea given last Tuesday afternoon by the Misses Rita and Lois Brown in their apartment at the St. Xavier. Among the many pretty young girls who called during the afternoon were the Misses Margaret Moore, Dorothy Deane, Elena Brewer, Alysse Warner, Linda Bryan, Marie Whiting, and Dorothy Capwell.

MRS. UHL TO GIVE DANCE FOR DAUGHTER.

Among the dances which include young people not formally out, will be that given by Mrs. Adolph Uhl, for her daughter, Miss Eleanor Uhl. Mrs. Uhl has sent out cards for the evening of November 20, and the Uhls will entertain in their Piedmont home, which is one of the most attractive residences in the foothills. A large number of young people will be entertain- [illegible] along delightfully informal lines.

SHALL WE FOLLOW PARIS IN RAGE FOR NEW FURS?

It is a debatable question now, whether we are, or are not to follow Paris in a rage for red fox and lion, for panther and leopard skins. These ruddy furs look very smart, and they are lovely furs besides, and go well with the leading shades of the day. Leopard skin looks very barbaric, and though lion skin has a lovely soft tawney hue, it is hardly suggestive of the gentleness which is a feminine attribute. Around the bay, for the most part, dark furs are favorites, but it will be interesting to watch the costumes brought home by those who have recently been abroad. Mrs. Fred McNear is wearing furs of brilliant pink tones which are most becoming, and one sees this year a great deal of costly ermine. Among those who own fine ermine furs are Mrs. William Henshaw, Mrs. Oscar Long, Mrs. Warren S. Palmer, Miss Alice Grimes, Mrs. Eleanor Martin, Miss Ernestine McNear.

⁂

CONCERNING MOVEMENTS OF THOSE WELL KNOWN.

Signor and Madame de Grassi are comfortably established in London, and one hears that they are very popular in musical circles, and that one meets many distinguished people in their home. Madame de Grassi was formerly Miss Winifred June Morgan, one of Oakland's talented violinists. Her mother, Mrs. Morgan, is planning in the future to establish her permanent home in London.

Mrs. Louis Ghirardelli and her daughters are very comfortably established in Dresden, the city which they have chosen as their headquarters while they are abroad. They recently returned to Dresden after an extended and most enjoyable tour through Switzerland.

Miss Julia Fraser, who has so many friends in Oakland, writes that her stay abroad is to be extended, and she will not return for some months to America. She has spent the autumn in England, and early in the winter she will go to Paris.

Miss Harriet and Miss Marian Stone are in Vancouver, where they are enthusiastically enjoying the good times which fate seems to send their way. They are being [illegible]tertained by friends, and Vancouver, with its fascinating northern environment, and its English atmosphere, is a delightful place in which to spend autumn days.

Mrs. Alexander Young and her daughter, Miss Bertha Young of Honolulu, have spent the later weeks of the summer at the Hotel Stewart across the bay. They left San Francisco recently for the Beverly Hills, near Los Angeles, where they spend a month.

The Youngs spent many years in Oakland, having built for their home "Rosecrest," now the residence of the William Henshaws. Miss Bertha Young was very popular here, and their home was always the center of much popular entertainment.

Many complimentary affairs would have been arranged in Oakland for Miss Young, but because of her mother's ill health she declined most of them.

Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Chase closed their home on Webster street this week, and they are planning to leave in the near future for Southern California. They will make a tour of the larger cities, and will spend the greater part of the winter in Santa Barbara, San Diego, and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Challen Parker, (Nelle De Golia), have returned from an interesting trip to the Atlantic coast, and have opened their home on Kingston avenue. During their absence, their two little sons remained with Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. George De Golia.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosborough are in Southern California, and are now spending some time at Coronado. On their way home they will visit Riverside, Los Angeles, and Santa Barbara. They are planning to establish their home in an interesting apartment on this side of the bay.

Many well known Californians have been in New York this autumn, among them Mrs. Seth Mann, and her pretty young daughter, Miss Dorothy Mann, who are to spend the coming season in the East. Mrs. W. B. Seabury of Berkeley and Miss Earle of San Francisco, who have been traveling for a year in an extended tour of the world are now at the Hotel Astor in New York. They are planning to leave for California some time this month.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Crocker [illegible] are at their Burlingame home. Miss Ethel Crocker will be greatly missed in social circles across the bay this season, for she is a most charming girl, very pretty indeed, and sweet and unspoiled. She is a most delightful hostess, and very generous to her young girl friends, so she is greatly missed when she goes abroad. But Miss Crocker has high standards, and she has been brought up with fine ideals of life. So she is hard at work studying singing in Paris. Her teacher is the famous singer Jean de Reszke, who says she has a lovely voice, capable of great things in the future. Miss Crocker lives with her aunt, the Princess Poniatowski, who is greatly admired in Paris, and one of the best liked Americans in that fascinating city. She is also one of the very few American women, who is really part of the old exclusive, aristocratic smart set of France.

Mrs. George McNear senior, who has been abroad all summer, returned home last Saturday, coming across the continent with a party which included her son, George McNear, and her daughter, Mrs. P. E. Bowles. Mrs. McNear has opened the family home on Linden street, where she will spend the greater part of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins, (Bessie McNear), are in Southern Europe. Later in the winter they will return to London and in April they will go to St. Petersbourg, where they will establish their home.

Mrs. George McNear, Jr., and her daughter were guests at the "dansant" on last Monday, and Miss Ernestine McNear attracted much attention. She wore a handsome gown of the new cloth, duvetin, which is attracting so much attention abroad. It was a shade of deep mahogany red, the coat up to the neck, which was finished with a collar of fur. The costume was completed by a small beaver hat, which had only a band of moire trimming.

Miss Frederika Otis, who returned with the McNears from abroad, was also at Monday's dansant. Her gown was a French model of dark blue cloth, with elaborate panniers of blue and red brocaded silk. Her hat was of black velvet trimmed in fur and small bunches of violets.

Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Stanford and their little daughter Helen, who have been abroad for some months returned to California last month. They opened their country home at Warm Springs, where they are planning to spend the winter.

The Misses Marie and Lillia Tonchard are in London, having spent the greater part of the summer in Scandinavia. They will go to Rome for the Christmas holidays, and they will also spend the remainder of the winter there. The Tonchards spent many months abroad in an earlier trip and they have very interesting friends in Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Duane have decided to close their cottage at Tahoe for the winter, and have taken the Frank L. Brown residence on Lee street. The Frank Browns are planning to spend the coming winter in Southern California. Mrs. Bliss Duane was formerly Miss Florence Dunham, and the old family home of the Dunhams was for many years on Alice street. Her sister, Miss Mary Dunham has taken a home in Berkeley for the season. Mrs. Duane has many friends here, whom she will entertain this winter, and who will plan many complimentary affairs in honor of her return to town.

[illegible] and probably no family has traveled more than they have in the past years. Mr. Taft is planning to sail for Honolulu on Monday, the seventeenth, and he will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Dorothy Taft. Miss Nellie Adams, Miss Taft's friend, will also be of the party. They plan to be away about six weeks, and they hope to visit the Island of Hilo, on which is the magnificent volcano, Kilauea.

It is very good news to their many friends that the Misses Florence and Edith Selby have closed their Los Gatos home for the winter, and will spend the coming season in Oakland. They are very fond of their home in Los Gatos, which is near the beautiful home there of their aunt, Mrs. A. J. [illegible] their winters in that very picturesque city in the hills.

The Misses Selby have taken the home of the Harold Spens Blacks on Vernon street, and they will entertain there in an informal fashion this winter. Miss Florence Selby has traveled extensively, and she studied along many lines of culture in New York. Miss Edith Selby is a graduate of the University of California, and both have many friends among the well-known young matrons in the social set on our side of the bay.

Mrs. Prentiss Selby is planning to go East again this year. Her son, Arthur Selby, is a student at Princeton, and Mrs. Selby always spends the holiday season with him in the East.

Mrs. John Valentine is planning to give an informal tea for Mrs. Selby, before the latter's departure for the East. Her guest list will include only intimate friends of her guest of honor.

⁂

HOLIDAY SPIRIT

The holiday atmosphere has crept in almost imperceptibly this year, and all suddenly we are awakened to the fact that the holidays are almost here. The toys that delight our hearts are already in the windows, and the dearest dolls in the world carry a universal appeal to us.

The first holiday announcement to be made is that of the West Oakland Doll Show, and the invitations which bring the glad tidings to the children are wonderfully attractive.

Pictures of dear little girls announce "The Annual Doll Show and Sale of Fancy Articles, for the benefit of West Oakland Home, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, afternoons and evenings, December 4, 5 and 6, 1913, at Ebell Hall [illegible]. Many affairs will be given to aid this doll show, among them a charity ball is scheduled for next Wednesday evening at the Hotel Carlton. The hostess will be Miss Mae Jenkins, and she will be assisted by members of the prize doll table, and by Mrs. J. A. Beretta and the following receiving party:

Mrs. W. S. Rhum
Mrs. E. H. Lohmann
Mrs. Frank Bilger
Mrs. Walter Kellogg
[illegible]
Mrs. A. C. Smith
Mrs. Emile Lehnhardt
Mrs. Ben Woolner
Mrs. Arthur Holland
Mrs. James Smilie
Mrs. Oscar Luning
Miss Grace Arcter
Miss Lou Dennison
Mrs. A. N. H.
[illegible]
Mrs. Richard Ayer
Mrs. John Allen
Mrs. Clifford Beattie
Mrs. I. H. Van Sicke
Mrs. Edward Delameter

Other affairs for the doll show are to be announced later in the month.

PETTIS TEA ATTRACTIVE EVENT OF WEEK.

One of the very attractive teas of the week was given at the home of Mrs. M. Fanchon Pettis on El Dorado avenue, last Thursday afternoon. It was a very delightful affair, and many friends assembled in the home, which was made very charming indeed by an exhibition of the paintings of Mrs. Pettis, who is an artist of rare talent. She has medals and other symbols of distinction from the Exposition of Chicago, and also from the Alaska-Yukon Exposition. A feature of the afternoon was the superb singing of Miss Elizabeth Wilcox, whose voice is attracting much attention in local musical circles, and it bids fair to be heard in a much wider world in the future.

Miss Wilcox was very charming, accompanying herself, and singing gladly the musical numbers that were asked of her, lending her aid to making the tea a great success.

There has been so much interest shown in the work of Mrs. Pettis that a request has been made that it be exhibited at the Home Club, and people will see it there next week, when they go to the book exhibition. Among the best work is that which pictures the redwoods of the State, especially the superb specimens of the Russian river. There are also Yosemite pictures of a high order of excellence, and the pictures of the Berkeley oaks are charming.

The work of this artist will add to the delightful book exhibition now the center of interest at the Home Club.

MINETTI CONCERTS ARE AGAIN THE ATTRACTION.

It is already certain now that the Minetti concerts are to be a great success, and there will be a large representation of prominent people in the Mark Requa home tomorrow. The program is perfectly planned, and along classical lines, and the Minnetti stringed orchestra is so well known that it carries with it always a certain element of success. The Piedmont neighborhood contains many prominent families who are greatly interested in music, and they will all be assembled at the Requa home tomorrow. It is hoped that at the conclusion of this series, another one may be begun, so that the afternoon concerts may be feature of Sundays at Piedmont.

It is an ideal way to spend Sunday, for music is helpful, uplifting, and inspiring and besides there is that good comradeship always engendered when we meet informally in each other's homes.

Miss Wilson Passes On Wedding Gift Also Spends Busy Day in N. Y. Shops

Hold Meeting in Interest of San Francisco Horse

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—While Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, was fitted for her trousseau by Fifth-avenue modistes yesterday her fiance, Frances Bowes Sayre, enjoyed the first day of his promotion in the District Attorney's office, and her friend, Miss Genevieve Clak, shopped for the wedding present which the House of Representatives will give

Sayre [illegible] his desk, [illegible] occupied yesterday as deputy assistant district attorney for the first time, and early made himself scarce.

Late in the afternoon it was said at the District Attorney's offices that Sayre and Miss Wilson had gone for a week-end to the Sayre country place in Bethlehem, Penn.

Miss Wilson had her wedding gown fitted in addition to enjoying a revel in fashionable shops on Fifth avenue. And [illegible] Clark daughter of Speaker Champ Clark, had picked out as the emissary of the House. Now all that Representative [illegible] Mann has to do is to come on from Washington with something like $2000 and pay for it.

It is believed that Miss Wilson's preference ran to silver, and that the gift may have been something like the chest of silver given to President and Mrs. Taft on their silver wedding anniversary by the House.

Sayre will remain in the District Attorney's office about a week longer. His honeymoon trip will last a month, and thereafter he will take up his duties as secretary to the president of Williams College.

FRIENDS OF HORSE IN ROW AT MEETING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—At the Palace Hotel yesterday afternoon a meeting was held to enlist public sympathy in the cause of the horse, and to find, if possible a means of alleviating the cruelty inflicted upon him through the alleged slippery condition of several streets. Mrs. C. E. Farnum, who acted as chairman of the gathering, said a petition was circulated some weeks ago in which a remedy was asked for the existing condition by women some of whom were property owners and taxpayers, and all of whom acted from purely disinterested motives.

Samuel Shortridge, Michael Casey, former president of the Board of Public Works; Rev. William C. Poole, and David J. McCoy, superintendent of street repairs, spoke, and the ladies were congratulating themselves when an incident which had been entirely unlooked for occurred to disturb the harmony of the proceeding and caused tears.

The incident, it is said, was due to the fact that an organization known as the "Animal's Friend" had not been officially invited to participate in the circulation of the petition and that some of its individual members, including Mrs. J. W. Kelley, the secretary, had joined with Mrs Farnum and at the recent land show where the organization had a booth, had solicited signatures to the document.

As yesterday afternoon's meeting was nearing its conclusion Mrs. Charles Marshall, president of the "Animal's Friend," raised her voice in a criticism of Mrs Farnum and her helpers, questioning their good faith.

In a moment the meeting was in a tumult and hot words were hurled back and forth some of those present taking one side and some the other. Mrs. Kelley attempted to explain her attitude in the affair, but her voice was drowned out in the general tumult and it was not until Mrs. Farnum, with supreme presence of mind, adjourned the meeting that the general hubub subsided.

After adjournment the argument was carried on in groups of ladies who had attended the meeting and that a serious breach in the ranks of the "Animal's Friend" had been effected was indicated by threats of resignation from some of those who had been enthusiastic members.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN GETS FAMILY HEIRLOOMS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The will of Mrs. Mary A. Murray, granddaughter of Walter Browne, who was Mayor of New York in 1832, has been filed with the Surrogate. It leaves her estate to charitable and religious organizations. Her nephew, Walter Browne II, whose wife, Frances Hewett Browne, eloped with Jordan L Mott in May of last year and is now with Mott in China, is not remembered. Another nephew is named as executor. To him is left certain family heirlooms. There are other such bequests to William B Browne, a nephew, and to Emma Browne Beebe of Portland, Ore., and Helen B. Sutton of San Francisco, grandnieces.

GIRL BINDS HERSELF SEEKING EXCITEMENT

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Gertrude Hanson, 16 years old, who was found bound and gagged lying in the cellar of the home of O. V. Jahns, with a pile of rubbish burning near her, confessed that she had set fire to the rubbish and bound and gagged herself. She said she wanted a little excitement.

The girl was uninjured, although nearly unconscious from smoke. The girl at first told the police that she had been attacked by a pyromaniac, whom she had discovered setting fire to the house. To prevent an outcry, the man had bound her and left her near the fire, she said.

Milburn, who is a graduate of Oxford, and himself noted as a polo player, is the son of the well-known Buffalo business man. It was at his home that President McKinley died after he was shot. The wedding was one of the most brilliant of the season, Miss Katheryn Steele being maid of honor and A. Perry Osbourn best man.

She immediately was rearrested by Detective Nick Harris on a complaint filed in University police court.

ENGAGED COUPLE WERE BROTHER AND SISTER

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Alice and Carl Jacobson, brother and sister, lost to each other since childhood, were brought today to know themselves in their true relationship after a courtship which was about to result in marriage.

Several years ago in England, Carl was adopted by a family named Smith-son, who went to New York and finally came to this city. A few months ago Carl met Alice Jacobson also from England, and they soon became engaged.

The young woman, in writing to her parents, enclosed a picture of Carl and told of her engagement. The parents were of the opinion that it was the long lost son, and an investigation revealed the fact that the engaged couple were brother and sister.

MUST PAY SUBSCRIPTION REGARDLESS OF LOCATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — Judge Conlan decided Thursday that J. W. Johnson, a member of the local fire department, living at 2767 Sacramento street, must pay his $100 subscription to the Exposition Company. He objected to paying because the exposition was not located in Golden Gate Park.

Judge Conlan ruled that as the subscription was unconditional in its terms, this objection could not be considered. The legal point that the exposition corporation did not have a right to issue or sell corporate stock was also raised.

To this the court held that a private corporation such as the exposition had an inherent right to issue and sell stock. The action is of particular interest in that it had resolved itself in the nature of a test case as to whether or not the local firemen would be compelled to pay for their stock subscription given to the exposition.

WAGE LAW UPHELD.

PORTLAND, re., Nov. 8.—Circuit Judge Cleeton yesterday upheld the constitutionality of the minimum wage law. A Girl's Given Name

By DORIS BLAKE.

A GIRL'S given name and her good name have more to do with each other than girls usually think. Many a good name has been lost because a given name has been taken too lightly by its owner. If a girl is not reserved about the use of her given name she cannot expect men to think that she is reserved about anything. But if she considers it a precious thing, a something so valuable that she can be granting a real privilege when she allows a man to call her by [illegible] she will be considered especially valuable in that man's eyes.

Can you imagine a man saying of a girl whom he has never called by her first name 'Miss ——'s a great old pal?' And yet I have heard young men use those very words of a girl who allowed them to call her by her first name the second time they met her.

There are many men who affect to [illegible] they have known a [illegible] while, but among themselves they will boast of an easy conquest and think less of the girl who has permitted the familiarity.

Don't be afraid, girls, that men will regard you as a prig or a prude if you hold yourself above the confusion of casual acquaintance and friendly intimacy.

On the contrary, your attitude will win for you genuine respect when it is seen and understood that the name by which you are known among those near and dear to you is not to be bandied about [illegible] jest.

Remember, your name was not given you to give away again for nothing or [illegible].

HOW SHOULD HE ASK?

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young man of 15 and asked a certain girl to go to a party with me. She said she had made other arrangements, that another girl was going to stay with her that evening. Now should this have kept her from going with me and another fellow who said he would take the other girl? How should you ask a girl to go with you, by a note if you cannot see her alone? And what should you say? In going to lectures where a girl gets a free ticket is it not proper for the gentleman to take her free ticket instead of buying one?
C. E. P."

I don't see why the young lady did not accept your invitation for herself and her friend who was spending the night with her. Yes, if you are not able to see a young lady and ask her personally you write a little note to her. "Will you give me the pleasure of accompanying you on Thursday evening to Miss Blank's?" would be all right to say. There isn't any reason why you shouldn't use the young lady's free ticket if she suggests it. But if you invite her and she doesn't mention giving the ticket, you will buy one for her.

SAYS SHE IS TOO QUIET.

"Dear Miss Blake. I am past 16 and have been accompanied by young men to a number of places, such as parties and theaters, and so forth, but lately I have not been going to these places, as I haven't anybody to take me. Most of the boys I went with say I am too quiet. And I always have to be home at 9:30 or 10 o'clock. When I just go out with the girls I try to be home at 9, but when I go to a party or a dance or the theater I find it impossible to be home at 10 o'clock, and this makes mother angry. I do not keep steady company with any fellow because mother and father disapprove of it. Don't you think I am old enough to be able to stay until 11:30 or 12 anyway? Most people think I am 18 or 19. I am the youngest in the family, and that is why they think I should be home early and not go with boys. I work and think I ought to be allowed to go out in the evening and to keep company. Kindly give me your advice as soon as possible as to whether I am right or wrong.
EVA."

You are young, you know, Eva, though 16 does seem very grown up when you're that age. Why don't you do as your parents wish for a year or two, spend your evenings with them, and wait until you have their permission to go to places with the boys that you know. They will let you have a few boys and girls at your home for little parties sometimes, I'm sure, if you are very dutiful and do as they wish.

WHO IS RIGHT?

"Dear Miss Blake. Just made a bet that pink was the correct color for baby boys and blue for girls. The other party thinks I am turned around. Who is right?
HELENE."

COMES OFTEN TO SEE HER.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 17, have gone with a young man eight months. I think very much of him and think it is all returned. He doesn't live in my home town but comes very often to see me. We are engaged, but he has never bought me a ring yet. Do you think he will be true if he doesn't get me one? Is it improper for a girl to allow a boy to kiss her after they are engaged and to let him put his arms about her? I met another young man who has been very nice to me. He lives in my home town. Should I allow him to call? I know my friend would care. Should I treat him in that respect or not? I don't care for any one that I have ever met like the first one I met. I don't know what to do. Will you please give me your advice?
MARY."

The ring means nothing more than a sign to tell the world that you are engaged to be married. Perhaps the young man is waiting to buy you a ring until he can afford a very nice one. I do not see how that could make any difference in his fidelity. As an engaged girl you have no right to accept the attentions of another man.

NO HUGGING AND KISSING KIND.

"Dear Miss Blake: As I am in need of advice, and not wishing to ask any one else, I thought I would come to you. Here is my secret: Some time ago there was a young man came to our house. He said he was taking orders for a portrait company. Well, as mother was not at home he stayed quite a while waiting for her to return, but finally took his leave. He came back the next day with a boy I was well acquainted with, who introduced him to me. When he left I, of course, went to the door, and what should he ask me but to go to the show with him Saturday night. As it was right in front of my mother, I don't think it was any harm, do you? I asked mother's permission, and, as she was willing to let me go, I went. Do you think I did wrong? When he brought me home that night he told me he would write to me right along if I would promise to answer. He acted real nice and I learned he was only 19. Now, as he acted so nice to me, do you think it would be wrong to answer his letters? He was real nice for he was no hugging and kissing kind of a boy. Will you kindly advise me what to do, as I am anxious to either hold my promise or break it and don't wish to do wrong.
"DAKOTA GIRL."

I see no reason why you should refuse to answer his letters, when your mother [illegible] invitation to theater.

HE SEEMS TO CARE.

"Dear Miss Blake: I would appreciate it very much if you would answer these questions I ask you. I have been wanting to write you for a long time. I have been going with a man, for about six months real steady. He seems to care for my company very much, and naturally we grew to think an awful lot of each other's company, at least I did. Now the other evening he was calling on me and he just made the remark that a 'little girl' he had known for some five years had just arrived in town and that [illegible] I did not pay any attention to this and so the subject was dropped. Now, do you think he thinks anything of me if he went to see this girl? It hurts me very much to think he went to see this girl and I am undecided what to do and [illegible] ferred to her just as a friend and said, 'O, you didn't care.' I am 18.
"BUDDIE."

Since you are not engaged to the young man you have no right to object to his calling on any other young lady. I think that you are just a little foolish to worry a moment about the matter, because he surely is interested in you or he wouldn't have told you of his going out to see the other girl. Don't let him see that you are jealous, Buddie. Be just the same to him as you have always been. He has done nothing either thoughtless or inconsiderate.

SUSPICIONS HAVE BEEN AROUSED.

"Dear Miss Blake. I am 19. I have been married just a year. I was out driving with my husband the other day and we passed a crowd of young high school girls aged about 17, and to my astonishment he flirted with them. I [illegible] I have always had a good home and my husband seemed so devoted to me before. I cannot realize that his affection has cooled already. I have as yet said nothing to him of this affair, but since that day my suspicions have been aroused, and now when he calls up and says he must work late I do not know what to believe. My husband is only 24, a fine, athletic fellow with the most beautiful eyes and disposition. He is a junior member of a law firm which seems to be prospering.
MRS P. S. B."

Are you sure that you have lost your [illegible] flirted with the high school girls?" About anything as important as the loss of your husband's love you ought to be absolutely sure before you even allow yourself to think about it. Why don't you have an honest talk with him? Tell him that you aren't jealous or suspicious, but that you want to know and that you are asking him just as you would want him to ask you if he had even the faintest suspicion you were losing your love for him.

THE QUESTION OF HAIR

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1913, By Lillian Russell.)

NO question is more frequently asked than how to bring a good growth of hair on a bald or burned spot. In almost all cases it is a hopeless task. But where a few hairs remain, to prove that the roots are not entirely dead, there is hope.

If people would use electricity to stimulate the hair rather than to remove it, the result would be far more satisfactory. Nothing is more likely to revive the dormant bulbs of the hair than a weak current applied twenty minutes daily, after washing and [illegible]

There is good evidence to show that people who live in a freezing temperature for months at a time, such as Norway and Sweden, have wonderful hair, luxuriant and healthy. Which proves that cold is beneficial to the growth of the hair. Even people who are bald and have been for years can grow a luxuriant crop of hair by staying a year or two in the far north. Some med- [illegible] cold climate freezes the germs which destroy hair, thus leaving it to grow freely.

It seems a marvelous thing that the majority of women have fine hair, when we hear of the treatment the poor hairs are obliged to endure. One woman wrote me that she had fine hair until a year ago, when she washed it in pure ammonia, because some one told her it would [illegible] the strong caustic ruined the hair, and it will all have to grow out afresh and the burned ends cut off.

The safest wash for hair is the yolk of an egg rubbed into the scalp, then washed off in ten minutes with pure castile soap and water. No harm can ever come from that treatment.

Remember: Rather treat what you have of health kindly than destroy it by artificial means.

Answers to Queries

READER—In answer to a great many letters I shall again print my formula for removing freckles. One-fourth ounce carbonated potash, one-eighth ounce chloride of soda, eight ounces rosewater, and two ounces orange flower water. Mix. Bathe the face with this lotion at night before retiring. In the morning use plenty of good cold cream. Where the case of freckles is not a stubborn one there is nothing better than buttermilk. This is excellent for the complexion. Take a small amount in a bowl, dip the hands into it and apply to the face, allowing it to dry on. The above lotion is strong and will remove a stubborn case of freckles.

JANE—For hollows in the neck and shoulders there is nothing better than deep breathing. Try it and see. Practice the exercises for about ten minutes before an open window in the morning before dressing and the last thing at night before retiring. It will improve your health also and in a short time you will see a difference in your neck and shoulders. Your chest will become full, your shoulders will straighten, and it will also develop your bust. I shall be glad to send you instructions for deep breathing if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

DAUGHTERS OF KING OFFICERS RESIGN

Action Follows That of Other Officers of the Congregation.

Following the action of officers of the First Presbyterian church, the officers of the King's Daughters of the church resigned in a body at a large meeting held late yesterday afternoon in the church auditorium.

The membership, although anticipating the move, accepted the resignation of its officers with expressions of regret. Harmony prevailed and the members accepted the action in an attitude expressed by Miss Pearl Kingsland as follows:

"This is done without bitterness and with deep sorrow. We think this action is for the best. I think, in looking over the list of contributors, it will be found that the officers have done their duty."

The newly elected officers are Mrs. Wallace Brown, president; Mrs. Sophie Stetson, first vice-president; Miss Mattie Halbert, second vice-president; Mrs. Ella Newsom, third vice-president; Mrs. Emma Hardin, fourth vice-president; Miss Bessie Dingwell, secretary; Miss Mary Chestnut, treasurer.

Mrs. Brown stated to the society that she did not propose to take part in the controversy, as she thought the work laid out for the King's Daughters did not include anything that would retard the practice of benevolence and the spreading of the gospel.

READS RESIGNATIONS.

Miss Pearl Kingsland had charge of the meeting, in the absence of the president, Miss Eleanor Bennett, and after routine business had been transacted, the secretary, Miss Miriam Belle Gardiner, read the list of resignations as follows:

RICH ORANGE GROWER IN DIVORCE

Separated Since 1900, Husband's Charge Is Desertion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—A divorce action of considerable interest, not only to society hereabouts, but to members of the smart set in Southern California, was begun here today by Lawrence C. Gordon, the wealthy Riverside orange grower, who spends much of his time at the St. Francis hotel. His wedding to Dorothy Lee, daughter of a prominent family, on September 3, 1894, at Florence Italy, was the culmination of a pretty romance which had its inception while both were traveling in Europe. It was believed that the couple would be very happy, but differences arose, and in the early part of 1900 they separated. Mrs. Gordon has made her home in London ever since that time and desertion is the only accusation made in the complaint. In addition to this charge, however, Gordon complains of the high cost of living which has struck him by reason of the bills contracted by his better half since they went their separate ways. He sets forth that this is cruelty and that the invoices which have been sent him are for entirely superfluous things which Mrs. Gordon could easily have done without.

Further than this the troubles of the couple are not written in the legal papers here chronicled. The father wants the control and custody of Laurence Lee Gordon, who is now 16 years old.

NAVAJO INDIANS THREATEN UPRISING

U. S. Marshal Hurries to Shiprock Agency in New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 8.—United States Marshal Hudspeth left this morning for the Shiprock agency, where an uprising of the Navajo Indians was threatened yesterday. He goes by way of Durango and Farmington, and will not arrive at Farmington until 1 p. m. Monday, and will still have 35 miles to go before reaching the agency.

A special to the New Mexican today from Farmington says the farmers along the San Juan river are preparing to go to Shiprock in force and heavily armed to protect the agency force if the Indians attempt to carry out their massacre plans Monday.

This activity in San Juan county is undoubtedly due to Marshal Hudspeth's telegram to the San Juan county sheriff yesterday to take care of the situation until he arrived.

Mrs. J. P. Mitchel Will Visit Pacific Coast With Mayor

Popular Candidate Was Too Occupied for Honeymoon

[illegible] Purroy Mitchel, wife of New York's mayor-elect, is going to take her husband on their wedding trip. At least so she said today, and she meant what she said. "Yes," she told friends, "it is true that my husband and I are going on our wedding trip to the Pacific coast. We must start soon, as my husband will soon be too busy to leave his office, and I have decided that we are to have a wedding trip, so there."

Mrs. Mitchel and the young man who is to be sworn in as the next mayor of this city were married four years ago, but as yet Mitchel, because of the great amountof work that confronted him in his various political offices, has never found time to quit long enough to take his wife on a honeymoon jaunt.

Like her husband, Mrs. Mitchel is a tireless worker, and, while she played no outward conspicous part in her husband's campaign, she was nevertheless an ardent and enthusiastic worker in his behalf.

NEVER MADE SPEECHES.

She attended several of the larger meetings where her husband spoke, but never made any public speech and does not intend to do so. However, Mrs. Mitchel has a clear and comprehensive understanding of the great situation confronting her husband in assuming the leadership of an anti-Tammany administration.

Mrs. Mitchel has been a hard worker in the cause of suffrage.

"Some day," she said, "I expect to vote right here in New York, but I don't believe that those rights can ever be attained by using forcible methods as they have been doing in England. I have been asked why I did not take the stump for my husband. While I realize that such a course might have been entertaining and interesting, I was positive that my husband was capable of doing his own campaigning."

VIEWS ON SUFFRAGE.

Of suffrage, and what the women [illegible] vote, Mrs. Mitchel said:

"Suffrage would greatly improve the working conditions of the working woman. As to the wage question for women, I think it is entirely an economic one. Many women have demonstrated, and continue to demonstarte, that they can live rightly on the wage they receive. Of course, when the conditions under which women are worked are such as to breed vice, the wage question becomes a moral one, but that can be controlled."

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchel occupy an apartment on Riverside drive overlooking the Hudson river. An excellent housekeeper, Mrs. Mitchel is always an exceptionally good hostess and an enthusiastic entertainer. She cares little for society, being more athletically inclined. Her favorite recreations are swimming, shooting, canoeing and camping. Mitchel maintains a snug little camp in the Adirondacks, where they spend nearly two months [illegible]

ROLPH ISSUES ELECTION REQUEST

Asks Voters to Elect Men Who Supported Him and His Policies.

None of the Sixteen Candidates' Names Mentioned in Statement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — Mayor Rolph issued a statement this morning which his enemies may say has a joker in it, but which was designed to influence voters at next Tuesday's election. At that time 16 candidates are to battle for eight vacancies on the Board of Supervisors. The eight incumbents are among the eligibles as are also another solid eight, representing the Union Labor faction, the 16 having qualified at the primary election. Now it is rumored that Mayor Rolph does not favor certain of the incumbents, although hoping for the return to office of most of them. His statement today mentioned no names but he asked that the men who support him and his policies be elected. Here is where the joker comes in, and some are wondering just who are being stabbed by this official utterance from the city's chief executive.

Seven tins of opium were found on Espanoza, who was slightly wounded in the fight. The condition of Evans this morning is said to be encouraging. The bullet has been removed and it is believed he will speedily recover.

OAKLAND WILL BE PORT OF CALL

Luckenback Steamship Co. of New York to Erect Big Dock in Basin.

Two Fast Steamers of 10,000 Tons Being Planned for Service.

The announcement made yesterday to the effect that the Luckenbach Steamship Company of New York will make San Francisco its Pacific coast terminus, when fast steamers will be operated between the Atlantic and Pacific on the completion of the Panama canal, is of importance to Oakland in that it was recently declared by representatives of the company that Oakland would also be made a port of call.

The Oakland commercial bodies recently took up this matter with A. O. Lawrence, the local representative of the steamship company, and it was finally assured that one of the main docks of the company would be located in the Key Route basin.

In announcing the plans of the company yesterday it was stated that plans are being drawn for two fast steamers of 10,000 tons capacity to be added to the present fleet of the company for the through freight traffic when the Panama canal is opened. The new steamers will cost approximately $1,000,000 each and will be among the fastest express steamers operating between New York and the Pacific ocean.

INCENDIARY ENDANGERS SICK

Police Guarding House Used as Hospital Retreat.

With a guard of police surrounding the house, the patients "straining upon the start," for a quick vacation of the premises, and the chief of the institution hurrying from a brief stay in the country to take charge of the chaotic condition of things in general, the hospital-home of J. L. Bohannon at 5346 Claremont avenue, is in an uproar over the plainly evident plans laid Wednesday and yesterday to destroy the building by fire.

That there is sufficient foundation for the belief that incendiarian is intended, or has been, was established by Miss Mary Duke, a clerk in the hospital, when Wednesday morning she found gasoline saturated straw, together with a quanity of matches, piled against the front door of the establishment. To further give proof of an incendiary attempt being made, it was found this morning that the emergency fire-protection water tank on the roof of the building had been tapped last night, and 17,000 gallons of water allowed to run out to waste.

TELEPHONES TO POLICE.

It was on this later discovery that Miss Duke telephoned to the police, and officers were sent to the hospital to guard it today and tonight against any possible attempt to complete the plans for the destruction of the buildings.

Word was sent immediately to Bohannon at his retreat in the country, and he replied that he was at once leaving for Oakland. In the meantime the patients have been acquainted with the state of affairs, and nearly a score of people, inmates and attendants, are prepared to make a break for the open on the first alarm.

Bohannon has been made defendant in suits for damages by some of his patients during the past 3 years. It is the belief of the police that some enemy of his, who does not desire to resort to the courts has determined on the method of destroying his property as a means of satisfying an alleged injury.

BRYAN NEGOTIATING DENMARK TREATY

Secretary Tells of Pending Convention on Arbitration

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary Bryan announced today that he was negotiating with Denmark a treaty for arbitration of all questions arising, including those of national honor.

The proposed treaty is understood to be even broader in its terms than the Knox treaties with Great Britain and France, which were so radically amended by the Senate as to be practically devitalized.

The Knox treaties proposed arbitration of all questions, even including those of honor, but to conserve the treaty-making powers of the Senate, provision was made for a joint commission to determine the questions to be submitted, subject to the approval of the Senate.

While in the state of negotiation it is not possible to divulge the details of the pending convention, it is believed that it dispenses with such a provision and proposes that all questions, without regard to limitation, shall be subject to arbitration.

Denmark already has a convention with Italy, similar to the one which Minister Brun seeks to negotiate with the United States.

Defeat of Burns and Nikola Big Surprise to Boxing Game

English Lightweight, Owen Moran, Is Matched to Meet Joe Azevedo December 1

FOUR-ROUND GAME NOT CINCH BURNS THOUGHT IT WOULD BE

McCarthy Outpoints the Local Lightweight and Grabs Decision.

By THE TIMEKEEPER.

SOME of the boys who accused the matchmakers of providing set-ups for Frankie Burns will have to admit their mistake following the beating Johnny McCarthy handed out to the Oakland boy at the Pavilion Rink, San Francisco, last night. McCarthy, a despised 10-to-3 outsider, won the last three rounds of the four-round contest and Frankie had but a shade in the opening spasm. McCarthy was the big surprise of the season. Despite the fact that he had lost but one fight, and that to the great Packey McFarland, the fans could not see him with a microscope last night and they bet their money accordingly.

Burns tried to land his one-two punch in the first round, but McCarthy's aggressive right swing always stopped Frankie's effort before he got it squarely under way. McCarthy had Burns' style well figured out at the end of the first round and Frankie never had a look-in thereafter. Burns was trying all the time but found the route too short. The four-round game is not the cinch that Frankie was beginning to think it was. Had last night's bout been over ten rounds Burns would probably have won.

Another local idol was dethroned last night when Tom Nichols lost a close decision [illegible] of the most sensational ever seen in a San Francisco ring and was worth the price of admission alone. For the entire route the boys stood toe to toe and slugged and as there were no knock-downs there was little to choose between them at the finish.

Lee Johnson, the other local entrant, fought himself into a draw with Babe Picato. Dick Kendall was awarded an unjust verdict over Dummy Thomas, and Joe Reilly and Kid Romeo boxed their usual [illegible] stopped Harry Mills in the second round.

Bob Shand has returned from Jackson, Amador county, where his lightweight Mason, defeated Milton Livermore Tuesday night. The fight was one of the best ever seen in the mine country, both boys tearing in and doing their best every round. The scrap went the limit of twenty rounds—the decision going to Mason by a mile. Livermore is known as the "Pride of the Mother Lode," having tacked on five straight victories before the arrival of Mason. Livermore is a clean-cut, gentlemanly little fellow but has a lot to learn about the game. He took a terrible beating from Mason, but despite Shand's pleading to throw in the sponge his seconds let him go the limit. Mason used a pretty straight left and the constant visitations of this glove soon had Livermore's lips puffed. As early as the 14th round Livermore was sporting two black eyes and his mouth was swollen to twice its usual size.

Mason is a splendid two-handed boxer and should be able to hold his own with the best of the local 130-pounders. He is a clean hitter, never wasting a punch, and his judgment of distance is most [illegible]

Bob Shand had nothing but praise for the Jackson and Amador sports. They treated both him and Mason in splendid style, and they are both willing to return at any time.

Frank Vaise has started work at the Oakland Athletic club for his ten-round bout which will take place before the Oakland Wheelmen club on the evening of November 19. Vaise has been showing to good advantage and those who have seen his work predict that he will give Joe Azevedo a hot time when they clash. Azevedo is working at the Yosemite club in the west end.

The Crescent Club, Milt Weidner, matchmaker, will offer Kid Krantz and Johnny Sudenberg as the main event next Friday at Pavilion Rink. Sudenberg is well known hereabouts and Kid Krantz is the former Seattle boy who has boxed here in the past. The card follows:

Tom Jones (sounds familiar) was the recipient of a perfectly good punch in the jaw from the person of Charley "Kid" Cutler. The fracas occurred yesterday in Chicago and was provoked, according to Cutler, because Jones stole Jesse Willard from under his managerial wing. Now who's the joke on?

Jimmy Clabby will arrive here on the 24th for his bout with Frank Logan on Turkey Day, according to a wire received yesterday by Promoter James W. Coffroth from Jack Regan, who is handling Clabby's managerial reigns. George Shawkey sent a communication in to the effect that Logan has started work at Boyes Springs.

As yet Willie Ritchie has not answered Coffroth's wire. Jim became real "peeved" last night and shipped a telegram to Willie, who is rusticating in New York, asking for an answer one way or the other.

Jim Buckley, manager of Gunboat Smith, wired Coffroth last night in regard to the setting of a date for the Smith-Arthur Pelky match, but failed to mention any date.

The other events on the West Oakland club's card for Wednesday night in addition to the Jimmy Fox-Roy Moore ten round main event were selected today. GRIDIRONS IN EAST ARE SCENES OF MANY BATTLES

Cornell, Yale, Harvard and the Others Line Up in Football Contests.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Football games that will have a deciding bearing on the ultimate ranking of eastern college elevens are scheduled for this morning. Those contests mark the passing of the preliminary season. They will bring together several of the leading elevens of the section. The feature games of the day bring together Harvard and Princeton at Princeton and Pennsylvania and Dartmouth at Philadelphia, although several of the other big teams face opponents who should prove dangerous.

The Harvard squad, more than thirty strong, spent the night before the game in this city and moved on to Princeton early today.

At Franklin field, where Pennsylvania and Dartmouth will meet, another fast and brilliant game should result. Each team has shown class A calibre this season, playing a combination of the old and new games which has proved baffling for their opponents.

Yale will have her final tryout before facing Princeton next Saturday against the fast Brown university eleven. If the Eli aggregation plays up to the standard of its last week this season, Brown should be defeated.

Cornell has the honor of figuring in the only intersectional game of the day, meeting the University of Michigan eleven at Ithaca. Cornell is prepared to battle to a finish against the Wolverines, but the record of the Red and White to date is not particularly reassuring, since Carlisle, Pittsburg and Harvard, have defeated the Ithaca combination. Michigan, too, has met defeat, the heavy Michigan Aggies scoring 12 points to the Wolverines 7 on October 8.

OAK 'SCOUTS' OPEN UP; NEW MEN IN SIGHT

Advices were received here today from [illegible] where Frank Leavitt, president of the local club, and Arthur Devlin are rusticating, that negotiations for the addition of several new men to the Oak fold are under way. As yet, however, the two local "discoverers" have not made any definite arrangements, so the names of those interested were not divulged.

"BIG NINE" SQUADS IN IMPORTANT MEETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—With relative standings only at stake in the football games played today by Western Conference teams and with the Drake-Missouri meeting the only title contest in the Missouri Valley, coaches and players looked forward to decisive battles next Saturday. Most of the teams played today with only a part of the strength usually displayed. Minnesota, badly crippled, did not play. Nebraska, with only a shadow of its real team, met Nebraska Wesleyan. Indiana, without Captain Davis, put forward a weak team against the University of Iowa.

Ohio State, a new comer in the "Big Nine," met Wisconsin, which is severely battered from two hard struggles. Ohio State is said to be in good condition. Chicago looked forward to an easy victory over Northwestern. Purdue played a revived Rose Poly team and Illinois rested.

In the Missouri Valley conference the Drake-Missouri game was the center of interest. Other games of importance were the Kansas-Washburn and the Haskell Indians and Morningside.

East Side of Bay Gets All Four Soccer Matches Sunday

STANDING OF THE SOCCER CLUBS.

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Drawn.	Pts.
Thistles	6	4	0	2	10
Pastimes	5	3	0	2	8
San Francisco	6	4	2	0	8
Barbarians	5	3	1	1	7
Vampires	5	2	2	1	5
Burns	5	2	3	0	4
Alameda	6	2	4	0	4
Oakland Rangers	5	1	3	1	3
Argonauts	5	0	5	0	0

Games scheduled for tomorrow:
Oakland Rangers vs. Pastimes, at Grove and Carlton streets, Berkeley.
Burns vs. Barbarians, at Freeman's Park, Oakland.
Alameda vs. Thistles, at Lincoln Park, Alameda.
Vampires vs. Argonauts, at Croll's, Alameda.
All games start at 2:30 p. m.

Alameda county will be honored by having all four of the soccer matches played on this side of the bay tomorrow afternoon. The weather man predicts a fine day, so all the fans from San Francisco will take advantage of a day's outing and will witness the game of their choice. A rattling good game will be pulled off at Berkeley by the home team, the Oakland Rangers, and the Pastimes. The Rangers had the misfortune of having three of their best men out of the lineup, through sickness and injuries, in their game last week against the Thistles, and at that they held the leaders to the score of 2 goals to 1. Tomorrow they expect to make an even better showing, as it is reported [illegible] Milne will be at his place at full-back, White will play right half, and Guild will try out at outside left, with Nicholson on the right wing. The balance of the players will play their usual positions. This will be the best lineup of the Rangers this year and should give the Pastimes a hard game.

Another good game should be on tap at Freeman's, where the Burns and Barbarians battle for supremacy. The Burns surprised the natives last Sunday by holding the Pastimes to a drawn game, and were unlucky not to win from their rivals. The Barbs are jumping along at a rapid rate just now. They simply walked away from the Alamedans last Sunday, and by the way they are playing the game now. If they keep up this gait they will surely give the Burns a lively tussle.

At Croll's grounds the Encinal boys [illegible] and on form the Thistles should prove easy victors, and at the Lincoln Park grounds the Vampires will have little trouble on their hands against the young Argonauts.

Little Lessons in Golf; Grip of Club Important

The necessity of gripping the club firmly at the instant when it strikes the ball is a very important point, says a writer in Golf Illustrated. From inquiries I have made among good players it appears that the majority endeavor to hold their clubs very firmly, but there are others who contend that this is a mistake. In fact, I believe C. E. Dick, the well known Scottish international player, is a strong supporter of a comparatively loose grip.

So far as I personally am concerned, I play extremely badly if I do not grip very firmly, and I believe that the many failures which I have experienced at the game have been largely due to slightly relaxing the ball. I do not mind confessing that it was a long time before I found out how serious was this error.

The more important the occasion, the more I used to loosen the club—this I suppose being due to nervousness, and the results were disastrous. I must apologize for laboring this point, but I feel sure there must be many cases parallel to my own: many players who would improve their game by strokes per round by gripping more firmly. Within my own experience there is one club and one only, which must not be held too firmly, namely, the putter.

The delicate touch seems to depart if this is held with the same strength as the others. The method of gripping is a much debated problem.

Some people assert that the overlapping grip is the only one that is any good at all, others declare that it is unsuitable for persons with short fingers, while there are quite a number who believe in overlapping with certain clubs and not with others. I am positive in my own mind that this last theory is wrong and I should always recommend any one to use the same grip for all clubs.

I am told that quite 90 per cent of the professionals use the overlapping grip, but this surely does not prove that it is the correct one for the average golfer. It should be borne in mind that two of the finest players who have ever lived, John Ball and Alex Herd, do not employ the overlapping grip, which clearly proves that it is not essential to good golf.

Let me hasten to add that I am in no way prejudiced against this method of holding the club, but I am convinced that there are many golfers who would play better with just an ordinary grip—the left thumb down the shaft and the right thumb across, with the hands just as close together as possible. At any rate, it is one of the many things which are worth trying. STRAIGHT DRIVE.

RITCHIE ACCEPTS TERMS FOR BOUT WITH TOM MURPHY IN DEC.

Question of Weight Now Only Thing to Prevent Match Being Clinched.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of the world, wired James W. Coffroth last night from New York his acceptance for a match with "Harlem Tommy" Murphy. Murphy has already agreed to terms, and all that stands in the way of the match being clinched is a question of weight. Ritchie wants to weigh in 135 pounds one hour before the contest.

Coffroth has put that matter up to Buckey, allowing him to get in touch with Ritchie in New York and thresh out the question. With everything settled save the weight it is not expected that Murphy will do much bucking.

The match will be staged at the Eighth and Howard streets arena, in the nighttime, the first part of December. Coffroth has not decided if it will be on the 7th or 8th, but it will be somewhere around that date, for he does not want to programme the card too close to the Clabby-Logan go on Thanksgiving day, or too near the Christmas holidays. It will be quite a feature in having the bout at night, for it will be the first lightweight championship staged other than in the afternoon for ten years.

Coffroth has been angling for the attraction for several months, but Ritchie has been holding off. He has had the $15,000 offer under consideration, and has reached the conclusion that it is the best offered. Murphy has been lined up for months and has expressed only a willingness to get a crack at Ritchie's title.

Ritchie has a ten-round no-decision bout with Leach Cross on his hands for Monday night, but the champion is going ahead with the Murphy match, confident that he will experience no trouble with the New York dentist.

500 U. C. GRADS AT BIG FOOTBALL DINNER

Five hundred alumni of the University of California gathered at the Commercial club in San Francisco last night for the annual "Football Dinner." Acting President Barrows led in enthusiastic commendation of this year's U. C. varsity.

Prof. C. L. Cory of the College of Mechanics reviewed football history of other years and prophesied victory for today. Douglas Brookman, one of the more youthful alumni, hit the assemblage in the midriff by an imitation of "Irish" Wheeler and an erratic but eloquent pronunciation of Stanford's doom. Joe Dwiggins, football star of recent vintage, made a rousing talk and Milton Schwartz and Clinton Morse, old-time comedians, contributed some clever foolery.

SPECIAL TRAINS UNLOAD THOUSANDS EARLY AT PALO ALTO

[illegible], Cal., Nov. 8.—The campus swarmed early today with former Stanford men, gathered for the great day of the college year, the day of the Stanford-California football game. Special trains began arriving early in the day, each with its freight of ribbon bedecked supporters for one team or the other, and long before noon there was almost as much Blue and Gold as Cardinal in evidence.

The groundkeepers were busy this morning putting the last touches to the turf of Stanford field. The big green sward was trimmed and rolled and pronounced to be in shape for a fast game. Clear skies promised good football weather.

The Cardinal team was kept out of sight during the morning hours and away from the excitement of the campus. They were to return just in time to dress and run out on the field five minutes before Referee Wm. H. Hill, the expert from New South Wales, sounded his golden whistle to set the ball in motion.

The Blue and Gold team came down by special train. They ate luncheon aboard the train and did not see anything of the crowds until they ran out on the field.

Both sides were extremely confident before the game was called and the rugby experts admitted it would be a close battle. California was thought to rate slightly the better of it by the few who placed wagers on the outcome, but the fact that the supposed superior weight of the Blue and Gold scrum disappeared with the announcement of official figures on weight somewhat dampened the ardor of the betting public. Conditions apparently favored Stanford's fast backfield play and the question to be settled seemed to be who would get possession of the ball with the greatest frequency. Stanford rooters declared nothing could check their backs if the scrum fed them while California adherents were positive that the scrum would beat Stanford to the ball four times out of five and the backs show unexpected strength in carrying the ball.

This is the 23d year the two universities have met on the football field and the eighth year since rugby was adopted. Each university has three rugby victories to its credit and the last game was a tie, so added interest attaches to today's game.

As announced two days ago, the sides line up as follows.

Stanford—Hall, front rank; Wines, front rank; Peck, front rank; Clover, middle rank; Watkins, middle rank; Darsie, rear rank; Blase, rear rank; Gard, rear rank; Erb, half back; Austin, five-eighth; Lachmund, five-eighth; Reeves, three-quarter; Carroll, three-quarter; Urban, three-quarter; Andrews, fullback.

California—Abrams, front rank; McKim, front rank; Fenstermacher, front rank; Douglas, middle rank; Saunders, middle rank; Fleming, rear rank; King, rear rank; Prant, rear rank; Canefield, half back; Hazelton, five-eighth; Peart, [illegible] three-quarter; Lane, three-quarter; Hunt, three-quarter; Skinner, fullback.

Captain Thoburn of Stanford and Tom Dills, the fast California winger, do not appear in the line up because of injuries. Both may get into the game, however.

KENTUCKY'S FALL MEET MORE PROFITABLE THAN EVER

Juarez to Open Thanksgiving Day, and Charleston On December 1.

By JACK SALLEE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—Fall racing in Kentucky has proved more profitable to horsemen and the four jockey clubs of the Bluegrass State than any other season in the history of the sport. Ideal weather gave the Lexington and two Louisville tracts a chance to make a [illegible] Latonia the weather man has been rather unkind. The first week's racing at the plant across the river from Cincinnati has been good, but rain, sleet and snow kept the attendance down to the dyed-in-the-wool regulars.

Liberal purses drew the best horses from all sections this fall, stables which have raced only in the east or tried their fortunes on the Canadian circuit alone took a chance with the Kentucky tracks this year. However, the Kentucky horses more than broke even on the season, while the eastern and western horses were good enough to win many good events.

The only southern turfman to break into the limelight was J. W. Schorr, the Memphis brewer, whose Leochares tied one world's record and tied the Kentucky record for a mile. Leochares is one of the most improved horses on the turf.

Many of the eastern stables are at Latonia which did not race at the other tracks in Kentucky. These stables, however, are preparing for the long season of winter racing either at Charleston, S. C., or across the Rio Grande at Juarez, Mexico. Both of these tracks are going to be good drawing cards this winter as large purses are going to be offered to turfmen who will take the long trips.

Fred Auerbach who is sharing with Santo Sotille the management of the Charleston track, is now at Latonia seeking the patronage of horsemen. He has secured a large number of nominations for the stake events at Palmetto park for the coming winter and hopes to get at least an even break with the number of good horses with the Juarez track. Harry Breivogel, assistant of General Manager M. J. Winn, is looking out for the Juarez track as is Edward Jasper, racing secretary of the Mexican track, and Will Shelley, one of the placing judges there. Both winter tracks are anticipating splendid meetings. Both have secured enough good horses to insure at least a lot of good racing especially in overnight handicaps.

Juarez will open up as usual, Thanksgiving day, while Charleston will begin the long season by starting December 1. Most of the horsemen now at Latonia will have only a day or two of rest after the close of the meeting before shipping southward. Gene Elrod, master of the betting rings on the Kentucky circuit, as usual will run his special train through El Paso.

Form has been observed pretty well by horsemen this fall and as a result players of favorites have done better than usual. The one performer which has knocked over the talent three or four times this season is Samuel R. Meyer, from the barn of Adair & Baker. The running of this colt has caused much unfavorable comment. As the judges have been rather lenient on the Kentucky circuit, no action was taken.

The two-year-old division again this fall bobs up as the most impressive lot of horses now in training. The older division has failed to show the class promised this year. Aged horses of true racing speed and stamina are getting to be more valuable right along. The scarcity of good racers now over three year olds has caused quite a bit of concern among horsemen.

Three year olds of last season are not showing up while the two year olds of the same season have shown a falling off in speed and class. Leochares right now stands at the head of the three year old division. Even the Schorr gelding, though, has failed to win any rich stakes.

Last spring Leochares showed a distinct liking for the mud but since he has developed such a terrific burst of speed he has quit liking the heavy going and now does his best work over a pasteboard track.

In the four year old and over division, Iron Mask is undoubtedly the class of other racers in the middlewest.

In the two year old division there is a large number of youngsters which show great promise for next year. Among them is Old Rosebud, champion of the year; Little Nephew, Bringhurst, Bradley's Choice, Black Toney, Hodge and Emerald Gem, Belloc, Old Ben, Edith W., Sosius, Anytime and Bob Hensley promise much in the way of handicap horses. However, after the way Helios and Hawthorn fell by the wayside after having been hailed as the coming champions of three year olds, it is hard to guess out of the above lot just which ones will show any real form next spring. Of the lot Old Rosebud and Bringhurst look the best on past performances.

John Hachmeister has been enjoying the worst of luck for several seasons at Latonia. At first the Cincinnati followers of the sport refused to submit to the pari mutuel system of betting and since he has won over the public he has had to deal with a very erratic weather man. However, he has managed to earn a sizeable profit each year for Louis Cella and the other owners of the Latonia and Douglas Park jockey clubs.

Weber & Ward who have sent many a good race horse to the post, purchased Counterpart and Grosvenor from F. J. Pons, the Florida turfman. The reported price for the pair is something like $5000. Weber & Ward will send this pair to Charleston this winter. Grosvenor and Counterpart have each earned brackets twice during the meetings at Douglas park and at Churchill Downs.

Jeff Livingston has not yet decided to pay $50,000 for Boots and Saddle, Black Toney and Bradley's Choice. Owner E. R. Bradley offers to part with the trio of fancy bred racers for the above price, but the catsup king does not like to give up that much money for a trio of two year olds.

Jockeys Borel, Kederis and Goose are having a warm tussel for championship riding honors. At present Kederis and Borel have about an equal number with Goose within striking distance.

HELLMAN'S THEATER, Broadway at Seventh St.

For Saturday's program, a feature in three exciting reels, 3000 thrilling feet, "A Message of the Sea," showing how a man misjudged his wife and to punish her he sacrificed his child, the evil of his trusted servants and his escape in a boat. The crash of an express train and automobile make the situation so intense that it keeps you going from start to finish and wishing for some more.

No one should miss it—men, women and children—it's something that you will never forget. NAVAJO THEATER.

Saturday, Nov. 8 (Tonight):

The bill is headed by the Bison production, "The Light in the Window," a pathetic Civil War episode, in two acts.

Sunday, November 9:

Gertrude Robinson, James Kirkwood and Charles Graham will appear in "A Bride From the Sea," a new two-act play, powerful and convincing. "Elizabeth," an Imp. drama of quality. "The Battle of Bull Con" (Nestor). They actually dodge cannon balls in this farcical military scream producer.

Monday-Tuesday, Nov. 10-11:

"Thon, the Piper." Cast: Thon, the Piper, Robert Leonard; the Laird of Isla, Joe Singleton; Tam McIvor, John Burton; Madge of the Hills, Marguerita Fisher.

This two-act offering produced by Otis Turner, can best be described as a poetic melodrama, rich in local coloring, ripe with stirring action and generous in climatic incidents. Not even a Scotchman could say that the exterior scenes were not laid in the Highlands. There is a depth and perfection of detail in the interior scenes. Running through the whole, as subtleties, is a delightful versa by James Dayton. The action is laid in the latter part of the eighteenth century, while the story revolves about a young Scotch duke, who, determined not to marry one seeking his money, searches in the highlands for adventure. In short, the attraction is just a series of the most enchanting pictures ever screened.

Wednesday-Thursday, Nov. 12-13:

The Rex Players present Mr. Robert Leonard as Felix Westerly (detective), and Margarita Fischer, as an Egyptian priestess in a new detective play, "The Diamond Makers," in two acts. The offering is extremely lively and beautifully pictured. Miss Fischer, as the Egyptian woman, is superb.

Weir, have been picturized with wonderful effect. Alice Joyce plays a woman sleuth for the first time in her career, when she calls the police to nab the kidnapers; the fight that folows is crammed full of action—the last word in realism.

GAIETY THEATER, 423-427 Tenth Street.

This little theater is fast becoming one of the most popular [illegible] in Oakland and the theatergoers are certainly showing their appreciation by the large attendance. Messrs. Duncan and Dale, the Australian comedians, have been playing to capacity houses since the opening of their engagement, and are making a big hit with the public in general.

The reason for this is because they are producing a good, clean, moral performance and their comedies are not old, worn out productions, but something entirely new and never before seen in Oakland, and they look to stay at the Gaiety for some time to come.

Last week Mr. Davis presented to the public the "Rough Rider's Return," a patriotic little comedy of the frontier life and it must be said the situations were so exciting and comical that the audience was in an uproar from start to finish.

Mr. Jim Duncan, in the character of Dublin, the ranch hand, was in trouble throughout the piece and nothing was overloocekd that would keep the patrons in hearty laughter, and it must be acknowledged that he is one of the most finished comedians we have seen for some time and if he keeps on with this line of comedy you are sure to hear from him later in a large company.

Mrs. Dover Dale, the celebrated melodramatic actor and producer, in the cast of Bill Burrows, the rough rider, is surely a very clever performer and he is said throughout Australia to be the most versatile producer that they have known for many a year, and he will select only such comedies that please and that are entirely new and never seen in Oakland before.

Mr. Jack Walker is surely holding his own in the part of the Indian and it must be said that he dresses and acts his parts well, and up to the minute.

The dainty Sixteen Gaiety Girls are appearing in new songs and dances and they are becoming quite popular, singing all new songs and appearing in up-to-date wardrobes.

The Keller Sisters are still going big, and these classy little soubrettes are rapidly advancing into two of the most clever little song and dance artists. The Beauchamp Sisters and little Billy Wise make a most pleasing and complete program, and all in all, the whole company is capable of holding their own any place.

Beginning today, Mr. Dale presents to the public for the first time in Oakland that great comedy, "Almost Married." This is full of ginger and life and at times is so pathetic that there is hardly a dry eye in the audience, and just at the proper time appears Mr. Duncan, and you know the rest. Don't miss this or else you miss one of the best productions ever seen or heard.

Messrs. Duncan and Dale present for the first time in your city Miss Nadine Albers, the celebrated character artist, and this lady must be seen to be appreciated.

We are showing two and three-reel feature moving pictures; two automobile acts and the musical comedy company of fifteen people, all for the one price of admission.

On Saturday we will show that great feature, "The Vulture," a sensational picture. It keeps you guessing all the time, and if you haven't seen this great picture just come in on Saturday and see that feature. Two reels, 2000 feet of film. On Sundya we will show Sarah Bernhardt this great actress at her best. As this is one of her best, seeing is believing. SON MAY SAVE MOTHER'S LIFE

Police Asked to Find Thomas Byrne, Who Disappeared From Sacramento.

The life of Mrs. Peter J. Byrne, who is lying ill at her home in Sacramento, depends upon the success of the efforts of the police of the state in finding her son, Thomas, who disappeared from Sacramento yesterday, and who is being sought by his father and by the police. The father came to Oakland today seeking traces of his son here, and told the police a pitiful story of his search.

The boy, who is 17 years of age, disappeared mysteriously yesterday morning. Mrs. Byrne was ill almost at the point of death and learned of the disappearance of her son. According to the [illegible]

After searching Sacramento, Byrne obtained information which led him to believe that his son had come to the bay region. He started for Oakland last night, sending a telegram ahead of him from Suisun asking the police to search for the boy, and giving a description of him.

Byrne was in Oakland and San Francisco today. He declares that he fears his wife will die if she does not receive word of the boy. Thomas Byrne is described as 17 years of age, five feet eleven inches in height, [illegible] fair complexion with blue eyes and fair hair. He wore dark trousers, light coat and red sweater.

UNCERTAINTY IN WHEAT MARKET

Opens Lower and Further Dip Occurs; Corn Also Declines.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Uncertainty characterized the wheat market today. After opening ⅛@¼c net lower there was a further dip.

A firmer tone later developed on the rally in wheat. The close was easy at a net loss of ⅛@⅜@½c.

Liberal commission selling lowered corn values after an opening unchanged to ⅛@⅜c down in sympathy with wheat and prices declined further.

Lack of demand sent provisions off. Opening figures were 2½@5c lower.

STOCK MARKET IN RECORD SLUMP

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Stocks barely moved at the opening today. Orders on hand at the beginning of the day, which usually gave the market some appearance of life even in a dull session, were so small today that trading was stagnant at the outset. Variations from yesterday's close were restricted to slight fractions except in the case of Cotton Oil, which droped 1¼.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The market closed weak, opening with some degree of firmness [illegible] its course and before the close numerous new low records for the present movement were registered. The decline began with marked heaviness in New Haven and American Telephone, both falling to the lowest prices in their history. The movement gathered force in the final hour, when it embraced other more active issues, including Canadian Pacific and the leaders which fell 1 to 2 points, while some specialties, including Goodrich and Stude-[illegible]

Acute weakness of various specialties owing to short selling and liquidation, was based on developments specifically affecting those stocks. Losses were inflicted of three points in Delaware & Hudson and Studebaker preferred 1¾ in Goodrich and 1¼ in New Haven. Standard stocks maintained a firm front.

BEAR SENTIMENT STILL PREVAILS

Speculators in Stock Market Mark Time, Awaiting Developments.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Speculators in stocks marked time this week, waiting developments to give them a definite lead. Sentiment was still bearish, but the recent decline appeared to have discounted the effect of overhanging unfavorable influences, so far as they could be gauged. The movement of prices was alternately up and down, and net changes in most cases were small.

The uncertain status of this country's relations with Mexico continued to exercise an important influence on speculation. Traders were [illegible] fact that some sudden development in the Mexican situation might upset the market. Reports from the steel and iron trade also figured largely in restricting speculation. Further reductions in prices were made, operations were curtailed in some cases and incoming business was said to be small.

The one favorable development of the week, from the standpoint of the speculator was the relaxation in money rates following the [illegible] tendency, however, was limited, inasmuch as it was recognized that last week's flurry in money was due merely to month end financing, and that a return to easier conditions this week was virtually certain.

San Francisco Markets

PETALUMA, Nov. 7.—There was no change reported in the price of extra ranch eggs today upon receipt of the morning advices from the San Francisco Dairy Exchange. The local dealers offered the ranchers 54 cents for the delivery of yesterday. The receipts of the delivery for today were not heavy. The demand was fair today. The price of select pullet eggs took a tumble, the dealers reporting a drop of 2 cents. The offering was 39½ cents. The delivery of this grade was fair. There was no poultry delivery on the market today and it was a rather quiet day here. The prices of feed are still firm, but the prices of dairy products are cheaper.

STOCKTON, Nov. 7.—The only change in the quotations on the local produce market today was a decline of 2 cents in the price of pullet eggs, the dealers being able to buy in all they wanted for 38 cents per dozen. Firsts brought 52 and seconds 50 cents per dozen. Dealers do not anticipate that week-end offerings tomorrow will cause a slump, as the demand is heavy. Ranch butter remained firm at 37 cents per pound. Trading in poultry was brisk and receipts average.

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 7.—Seconds or pullet grade eggs dropped 2 cents per dozen on the local dairy produce market today, making the sole change in quotations. When they had received advices from trading on the San Francisco Dairy Produce Exchange dealers here posted [illegible] or pullet grades, and 34 cents per pound for butter. We make loans on personal property without removing the goods from your possession.

We charge you nothing if we do not make you a loan.

We make no objectionable inquiries in your neighborhood, but do business in a fair, square and confidential manner.

Do not lose your personal independence by asking a friend for a temporary loan when you are in need, but come to us for your wants; we make it a plain business proposition; you pay for what you get and do not have to ask favors.

We make these loans to be repaid in monthly or weekly payments for ONE month to ONE YEAR, and charge you for the use of the money only for the length of time you have it.

We Give You a Written Statement showing to a cent the exact cost of a loan and also to a cent the exact amount of discount we allow for each month the loan is paid before time expires. You can get no better proposition. You will find it to your advantage to get our rates before placing a loan elsewhere. [illegible] amount of loan in cash.

No Charges Deducted
Loans with other companies paid up and more money advanced on easy payments and longer time.

Quick service and the best of satisfaction if you come to this OLD RELIABLE FIRM.

REPEATED WEDDING ANNULLED BY JUDGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—A most unusual case in annulment was heard by Judge Graham yesterday. The plaintiff, Pauline Clairborne, was seeking freedom from William L. Clairborne, an engineer, on the ground of duress. What made the case unique was the fact that it was her second marriage which she was seeking to have annulled, while admitting that she had entered into a former marriage with him of her own free will.

Mrs. Clairborne lives at 959 Powell street, but became acquainted with the defendant in Los Angeles.

"We were first married on July 16, 1912," she testified. "Three months afterward I found that he had only got an interlocutory decree of divorce from a former wife, and that his marriage to me was not legal. So I came to San Francisco. After a while he followed me here and threatened to kill me if I did not marry him again. This was after he had secured a final decree from his first wife. So I went through the ceremony with him and then immediately went home to my sister."

The Judge held that the first marriage was void, and needed no decree to set it aside, and that the second marriage was voidable for the reason that the bride was acting through fear and had never lived with the defendant after the second ceremony. A decree of annulment was accordingly entered.

TO STRAIGHTEN CHANNEL.

NAPA, Nov. 8.—In the Superior Court here yesterday afternoon a jury in the case of the city of Napa vs. John Stewart, to condemn four acres in Carr Bend, one mile south of the city, to straighten the channel of Napa river, awarded Stewart $900 for the land and $100 for damages to the remainder of the property.

SUIT MAY STOP DRAINING OF LAKE

INDEPENDENCE, Cal., Nov. 8.—After having denied the motion of the city of Los Angeles to allow the action to go into another court, Judge Dehy of the Inyo county Superior Court resumed the hearing of the Natural Soda Products Company's suit to restrain the diversion of Owens river water into the recently completed Los Angeles aqueduct.

Counsel for Los Angeles asked to have another judge preside, because Judge Dehy was said to have claims to riparian rights, but the court asserted that a fair hearing could and would be given.

Noah Wrinkle, chemist and one of the principal owners of the soda company, was placed under cross examination yesterday relative to his assertion that the diversion of the Owens river into the aqueduct would dry Owens lake and destroy a soda deposit alleged to contain 70,000,000 tons, the largest in the world.

With the completion of Wrinkle's testimony, the soda company will rest and witnesses for Los Angeles will go on the stand. These will include William Mullholland, the engineer, who supervised the construction of the aqueduct; Charles H. Lee, an irrigation expert; George Shuey, who has been in charge of aqueduct lands in Owens valley, and Horace S. C. Porter of Pittsburg, who will testify regarding the soda deposit.

On the decision of the Court hinges the question of whether Los Angeles shall be restrained from diverting into the aqueduct a water flow estimated at 100,000,000 gallons a day.

HE IS SOME LOBSTER. SAY THE FISHERMEN

BOSTON, Nov. 8. — "Grandfather of all living lobsters," was the title accorded a giant crustacean brought to port today.

The lobster was the largest landed here in fifty years, old-time lobster men said. When they had finished their observations the following figures were given out.

Weight, 27 pounds; age, 50 years; spread from claw to claw, 37 inches, length of claw, 24 inches; feelers, 20 inches; width of back, 10 inches. Would make salad for 25 persons.

FEARS THAT ARAGONIA MAY HAVE BEEN LOST

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—A week overdue at this port the Hamburg-American line freighter Aragonia with a cargo valued at $1,200,000 was the subject of some anxiety yesterday. No word has been heard from her since she passed Gibraltar October 17, bound from Yokohama and other Asiatic ports. The Aragonia carried a crew of fifty men.

BOUNDARY FENCE FEUD RAGES ANEW

HAYWARD, Nov. 8.—A two year's feud between two neighbors over the position of a dividing fence was temporily patched up two months ago, when Judge Charles Prowse acted as intermediary. It has been renewed and again rages bitterly, by the alleged action of Manuel Garcia of Castro Valley, one of the neighbors, who is accused by George Asmussen with [illegible] Asmussen erecting a fence.

Mrs. Garcia is alleged to have had a hand in the fence offence, and is stated to have flourished a big club at Asmussen. Warrant for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Garcia was sworn to by Asmussen, and was carried out by Constable W. J. Ramage. Garcia and his wife were liberated on $100 bail each.

The will be tried by Judge D. U. Tofelmier in San Leandro Justice of the Peace Court, on charges of misdemeanour.

For two years Asmussen and Garcia have quarrelled over the position of a [illegible] fence should encroach further on his neighbor's property. Garcia was brought before Judge Prowse on a charge of attempting to have the fence removed, and later was again charged with a like offence. On the last ocasion about two months ago Judge Prowse suggested that the land be surveyed and the fence erected on a position to be decided by the surveyor. This Asmussen and Garcia agreed to. The case has aroused considerable interest in Hayward.

LAW APPLIES ONLY TO BIG GAME RAISERS

HAYWARD, Nov. 8.—When local pheasant raisers received from the State Fish and Game Commissioners, copies of a state law, which provides that any keeper of a game preserve must pay a license of $25 a year, a protest was raised against the imposition of the license. The raisers understood that the commission meant to levy this tax on them, and as many of them go in for pheasant breeding on a small scale, they consider such a tax unfair.

Senator E. K. Strobridge, when appealed to, set the minds of the raisers at rest to an extent, by explaining that the new law applied only to big game preserves, and not to the local people who have only a hundred or so birds.

NEIGHBORLY ADVICE

Freely Given by an Oakland Citizen.

When one has suffered tortures from a bad back and found relief from the aches and pains, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following neighborly advice comes from an Oakland resident:

J. Lee, shoemaker, 2338 Twenty-fifth Ave., Oakland, Cal., says: "Twelve years ago I began to have trouble with my back and kidneys. At night I was annoyed by pain across the small of my back. I also had that trouble during the day. I had pains in my hips and head. The close confinement and sitting for hours at the bench in a stooped position, I believe, caused the trouble. I lost weight and had trouble from too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. At last I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and from the time I began using them, I noticed improvement. I continued taking them and was benefitted in every way."

A LATER ENDORSEMENT.

On October 13, 1912, Mr. Lee said: "I seldom use a remedy for my kidneys now, but when I do, I take Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon make me right. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement."

Shades of Booth! Zounds! Box Office to Pay Actors' Tax

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—There will be consternation along the Rialto when it becomes known that the box office will have to withhold the income tax on actor's contracts exceeding $3000 annually. This is the interpretation placed on the income tax law by treasury department officials in response to inquiries from theatrical managers.

In the case of vaudeville performers, however, the proceeding will be somewhat altered. Their salaries are paid weekly by different managers and the performers themselves will have to make personal returns if liable for the tax.

The actor does not come within the provision of the law which allows certain professional persons, who cannot determine their income for a stipulated period and who receive their revenues from different sources in various amounts, to make personal returns.

LEARN OF PLOT TO SLAY OFFICIALS

San Diego Prisoner's Design Is Foiled Through His Letters.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 8.—Through letters written by A. B. Smith, under sentence of five years in San Quentin for a statutory crime, San Diego county officials learned of a desperate plot by the prisoner to escape from the County Jail, murder four officials, rob a bank and flee across the line to Mexico.

District Attorney H. S. Utley, Chief of Police J. K. Wilson, Detective Frank Boucherie and Mrs. A. C. Phelps, matron of the detention home, were marked for death by Smith. Smith succeeded in having smuggled from the County Jail two letters to a man in Los Angeles, who he said in the letters was an ex-convict, with whom he became acquainted while in jail in Los Angeles.

The letters were never called for and the Postoffice Department finally turned them over to the United States Secret Service and a detective agency. Through the officials of these agencies copies of the letters came back to San Diego.

In the first letter Smith states that his friend could easily smuggle two guns into the jail, and the carnival of crime was to start immediately afterward. Not having heard a reply to this plan, Smith in a second letter wrote that his friend could join him in Los Angeles, when he (Smith) was being taken to San Quentin, and at Bakersfield the guard would be killed, and the two would go to Kern station near Bakersfield and rob a bank there.

The complaining witness in the case against Smith here was his daughter, Mrs. Grace Byers. It was upon her testimony that he was convicted.

DOUBLE PROBE PLANNED IN BLACKMAIL CASES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8.—The Federal Grand Jury investigation of charges of attempted blackmail by C. H. McKelvey and W. H. Stevens, attorneys employed by girl inmates of the Jonquil resort, was resumed yesterday, but the county grand jury, which had planned to begin a similar investigator's work.

W. H. Evans, a Justice of the Peace at Monrovia, told the Federal investigators of having received from the two attorneys a letter advising him to call at their offices "upon a matter of importance." He said he did not do so, but that later Stevens called upon him at Monrovia and questioned him concerning his alleged relations with some of the attorney's girl clients.

Other witnesses who have been subpenaed include Marie Brown-Levy, Cleo Helen Barker-Browning and Jeanette Ellis, the three girls who filed suit for $60,000 damages each against George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, recently acquitted of charges of having offended against girls.

Another witness of importance will be Dr. Kyle McBratney of El Centro, who was said to have met the Brown-Levy and the Barker-Browning girls here last July. He was alleged to have received from the attorneys a letter advising him to settle financially with the girls out of court in preference to being made a defendant in a damage action.

ISLAND DEAL LAWSUIT HAS BEEN COMPROMISED

STOCKTON, Nov. 8.—A compromise has been effected in the suit of Lewis J. Cowgill against Friedlander and Houston and the Mercantile Trust Company of San Francisco, an action involving the title to 3196 acres on Union island, this county, and $15,000 worth of Southern Pacific bonds.

In September, 1912, Friedlander and Houston agreed, it was claimed, to purchase from Cowgill, as trustee for Frank H. Johnson, the Union Island property, and deposited $15,000 with the trust company as an evidence of good faith. The purchasers agreed when title was perfected to pay $110,000 and give a mortgage for the remaining $200,000.

Subsequently the San Francisco firm became dissatisfied with the deal, and instructed the trust company not to pay over the deposit. Cowgill then filed suit. Early in the proceedings it was stipulated that the $15,000 deposit should be invested in railroad bonds. By the terms of the compromise, two-fifteenths of the bonds go to Cowgill and the remainder to Friedlander and Houston.

SAYS CRITICISM HURTS BUSINESS

Guatemala Resents Misrepresentation, Declares San Franciscan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — That uncalled-for criticism of the Guatemalan Government, appearing in various newspapers of the United States, have had a serious effect on the business interests of Amricans in the Central American republic is the complaint of W. J. Parker, a San Francisco business man, who has just returned from a fourteen months' trip through the isthmian countries. According to Parker, newspapers, especially in New Orleans, have persistently published articles misrepresenting the methods and motives of President Cabrera.

These tales, he says, have been instigated by Gautemalan refuges who were driven out for the good of their country. Their publication has made it extremely difficult for all Americans, and even other foreigners doing business in Guatemala. As far as the Government is concerned, says Parker, any American who behaves himself may be sure of proper treatment, but the natives in general deeply resent the stories that have gone abroad and are not slow to make their feelings felt.

He characterizes Cabrera as a hard-working executive who is doing the best he can with the means at his command to advance the interests of Guatemala. Under his government the country is entirely without internal disturbance and is making greater strides toward prosperity than ever before. Cabrera is the head of the government in a very real sense, but, according to Parker, is following the only policy that can be successful in a Central American country. The San Francisco characterizes as absurd the tales of Cabrera's ambition to make himself dictator of all the Central American republics. Cabrera, he says, is concerned only with the progress of his own country, although he is making every effort to promote good feeling between it and its neighbors.
